Lewis Museum Group Organizes

The Ted Lewis Museum Inc. held its organizational meeting Wednesday at the Clark-May House, museum of the Pickaway County Historical Society.

Mrs. Ted Lewis (Adah Friedman) has been named honorary chairman and trustee of the organization.

Ben Gordon and Judge William Ammer were named co-chairmen of the organization. Jean Ankrum is the secretary and Dave Yates treasurer. Additional trustees were named but have not been contacted to see if they will serve.

Another meeting has been scheduled May 31 at which time plans will be finalized for a fund drive for the museum. A goal of $20,000 was tentatively set at last night's meeting.

A fund kickoff dinner has been tentatively scheduled June 6 at Pickaway Arms. Representatives of the communities civic organizations will be invited to attend this meeting. At that time plans for the fund drive will be made public.

The Ted Lewis Museum organization was recently incorporated. Yates was listed as statutory agent in the articles of incorporation.

Ammer, Yates, Gordon, Frank Barnhill Dick Tootle and O. Charles Hosterman are incorporators of the non-profit organization.

The Pickaway County Historical Society has agreed to permit the Ted Lewis Museum to use the rooms adjacent to the Circleville Chamber of Commerce office in the old Second National Bank building on West Main St.

During his career as one of America's most-loved entertainers, Ted Lewis collected a vast store of memorabilia. The proposed museum will be a showplace for a part of his collection.

Top British Composer Now Woman

LONDON (AP) — Wally Stott, one of Britain's top band leaders and composers of popular music, put on his suit and tie for the last time today.

The 48-year-old television and recording maestro has had a sex change operation and now will be known as Angela Morley.

Wednesday night he went to a concert in a blonde woman's wig and flowing evening gown. But he put on men's clothes today to drive north with his wife to break the news to his parents.

He and his wife of 30 years plan to continue together at their country home near London. They have a grown son and daughter.

"Since my earliest memories, I have had this problem," said Stott.

"A specialist advised me to have a complete sex change operation. Now I hope to be able to live a happy and dignified life. Naturally, I wish to carry on my career—but as a woman."

Geneva Talks Near Impasse On Arms Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A second of the stated U.S. goals for the Geneva disarmament conference, conventional-arms trade, is dead at least for this year. American officials say the United States has run out of concrete proposals.

The officials say none of the various U.S. approaches to controlling arms trade, some dating back to the Johnson administration, has made any progress.

This means that of the three priority items set out by the Nixon administration for the disarmament conference, two are dead for the foreseeable future. The conventional-arms issue has joined the proposed comprehensive test-ban treaty in the Geneva pigeonhole.

According to American disarmament experts, only a chemical-warfare agreement stands any chance with the Committee on the Conference of Disarmament which opened its current six-month session in February.

The comprehensive test-ban treaty fell this year, as it had in the past, in the constant U.S.-Soviet dispute over on-site inspection.

Over the past years, the United States has proposed several schemes to control conventional-arms trade, which totals more than $5.9 billion a year and accounts for four-fifths of the world's military expenditures.

The latest and most active American proposal was a concept first put forth in 1972 under which regional groupings of nations would work out limits to the amounts and types of arms they would buy.

This would require the purchasing nations to exercise the primary restraint rather than the major suppliers—the United States, the Soviet Union, France and Great Britain.

However, with some minor exceptions, none of the nations in the key regions—the Middle East, Latin America, South Asia, Africa, Southeast Asia—has shown any interest, the American officials say.

Egypt Cuts U.S. Staff In Cairo

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt has ordered the U.S. mission in Cairo and the Egyptian staff in Washington cut in half as a new expression of anger at American support for Israel. Each mission presently has 20 members.

The semi-official newspaper Al-Ahram said President Anwar Sadat ordered the cuts to protest the U.S. policy of "consolidating the continued Israeli aggression through the occupation of Arab territories."

American diplomats in Cairo confirmed the cuts had been ordered.

The State Department said it was not informed of the reasons for the Egyptian action, but "we will, of course, comply."

Before Egypt broke relations with the United States during the 1967 Arab-Israeli war, 300 Americans worked at the U.S. Embassy in Cairo and agencies affiliated with it. After the break, a skeleton mission of four diplomats and six administrators moved into the Spanish Embassy.

The mission was expanded to 20 persons after Secretary of State William P. Rogers visited Cairo a year ago and the Egyptians got the idea the Nixon administration might pressure Israel into giving up the Sinai Desert in exchange for reopening of the Suez Canal. Now the mission goes back to four diplomats and six administrators.

Women Flock To Apply For FBI Agent Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Female G-men? FBI employees in a dozen cities can't understand why a woman would apply to be a special agent and some special agents wouldn't want their daughters to be one.

Analysts Probe North Viet Moves

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. analysts are guessing that North Vietnam will try to maintain enough military punch after its current offensive to make new efforts against the Saigon regime in 1973 and thereafter.

The U. S. Intelligence estimates of Hanoi's future capabilities formed part of the backdrop for President Nixon's May 8 decision to choke off North Vietnam's supplies from Russia and China.

Nixon's bombing and mining measures are slated to continue until there is an Indochina cease-fire and U.S. prisoners are returned, a proposal again rejected by the enemy Wednesday.

U.S. analysts see no evidence that the present generation of North Vietnam's leadership is going to give up its long-standing ambition to "liberate" the South.

North Vietnamese forces are believed to have enough manpower and materiel on hand to continue their offensive at its current pace into the summer months.

Whether Hanoi will choose to do so is thought to depend on how the enemy assesses results of the current campaign. If the North Vietnamese rate their present strikes as highly successful, they may want to push on into the lowlands to harass major cities in hopes of collapsing the Thieu government this year.

By U.S. estimates, however, such a go-for-broke strategy would be highly costly to the North Vietnamese. While Saigon forces are hard-pressed and have left wide areas of the countryside thinly defended, U.S. officials say Saigon's troops plus U.S. airpower already are mounting a heavy toll on the enemy.

Therefore analysts expect Hanoi more likely will decide to hold down costly frontal assaults except at some symbolically important points such as Hue, and to try to move into little-contested areas of the countryside.

Lon Nol Won't Surrender Despite Cambodian Losses

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Cambodia has lost more large chunks of its territory to the Communists in the last month but Marshal Lon Nol hangs on and demands that the enemy surrender.

The Communists have seized substantial portions of the southern provinces of Svay Rieng, Kampot and Takeo since mid-April and also have taken parts of neighboring Kandal and Prey Veng, all near the border with South Vietnam.

These gains combined with earlier seizures in the north give the Vietnamese Communists and their Cambodian allies control over perhaps a million Cambodians—one seventh of the population—in more than half the country.

"Why don't the Cambodians just surrender?" wondered an American colonel.

"The present situation is forcing you to bring the war to an end," Lon Nol told the Communists. He offered the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong prisoner of war status in camps supervised by the International Red Cross.

One Communist diplomat gripped his middle-aged paunch and rocked with laughter when told of the speech.

Some observers felt Lon Nol might have decided President Nixon's decision to mine North Vietnamese harbors and bomb the communication lines will bring the Communists to their knees.

There also was speculation that he might be trying to cover up new negotiations, backed by the Soviet Union, to end the fighting in Cambodia while leaving North Vietnam in control east of the Mekong River, where most Communist bases are.

Such talks were reported earlier this year in Phnom Penh between a representative of Hanoi and Col. Lon Nol, the marshal's younger brother. Lon

Non is due to return this week from Paris, where observers feel he might have taken negotiations another step.

By the Phnom Penh government's own admission, the Cambodian army—officially some 200,000 men—has been unable to halt enemy forces reduced to 30,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers—mostly rear area troops. The main Communist fighting units in Cambodia have moved into South Vietnam for the offensive there.

Ohio House Passes Bill Aimed At Traffic Offenders

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio House passed legislation Wednesday to get tough with habitual traffic law violators, and turned its attention today to a bill to lump most transportation matters under a single, new department.

The Senate, meanwhile, Wednesday approved a controversial environmental protection measure which one sponsor called a "bill without a constituency" because both conservationists and industry opposed it.

That measure went to the House, where an environmental affairs subcommittee was scheduled to begin hearings on it today.

The habitual traffic offender act, approved 70-16 and sent to the Senate, calls for automatic revocation of licenses for up to five years when drivers accumulate 24 points within 10 years.

Under current law, 12 points within two years can bring a six-month suspension.

The measure also would provide for a one-to-three-year prison term for persons driving after their licenses had been revoked.

The environmental protection bill, which environmentalists contend is too weak and industry says is too strict, is expected to undergo considerable debate and amending before it reaches the House floor.

Passed by a 29-9 vote in the Senate, it would create a cabinet-level agency to control Ohio's ecology.

The new Ohio Environmental Protection Agency would take over the duties of the air pollution and water pollution control boards, and many of the pollution roles now handled by the Department of Health. It would assume powers now held by a variety of state agencies.

A Power Siting Commission would be created to control the location of all "major utility facilities."

Sen. Ralph Regula, D-29 Navarre, who helped author the bill after it became apparent a measure backed by Gov. John Gilligan's administration had little chance of passage, conceded it was "not a perfect bill."

Admiral Clarifies Viet Action

ABOARD USS NEWPORT NEWS (AP) — American Navy ships patrolling the Tonkin Gulf have not been ordered to intercept shipping to North Vietnam, only to warn it of mines in the harbors, officers on patrol in the gulf said today.

"We would just make sure they are clearly warned that they proceed at their own risk," one officer said.

He added that he did not know of any ship that had tried to run one of the minefields laid by U.S. planes on May 9.

Earlier, aboard the cruiser Providence, Rear Adm. W. Hay Rogers told newsmen: "We do not have a blockade, period. By placing the mines, we have taken certain actions and left other actions to individuals."

Rogers heads the flotilla of U.S. and destroyers off Vietnam.

He would not discuss specific orders but indicated clearly the fleet did not intend to challenge shipping into Haiphong. If a minesweeper or a Soviet warship approached, he said, he would confer with his superiors.

Other officers aboard the Providence and the cruiser Newport News were more specific, saying that until further orders, the mines alone were all that prevented ships from entering North Vietnamese ports.

There had been some confusion over the Navy's plans to disrupt supply traffic into North Vietnam.

6th Carrier Boosts Fleet Firepower

SAIGON (AP) — A South Vietnamese relief column advanced to within 2½ miles of the besieged provincial capital of An Loc today, making its biggest advance in six weeks, field reports said.

The carrier Saratoga joined the battle to lift the six-week siege of the devastated town 60 miles north of Saigon. It was the carrier's first combat since she was commissioned in 1956.

Moving behind hundreds of bombs dropped by jets from the Saratoga and from U.S. B52 bombers, the South Vietnamese met no determined resistance from North Vietnamese forces, the field reports said.

The U.S. Command confirmed an earlier report from South Vietnamese headquarters that 300 North Vietnamese troops were killed by a B52 strike two days ago southwest of An Loc.

Despite no major opposition as the government infantrymen leaptfrogged by helicopter from point to point, South Vietnamese field commanders indicated they expected tough fighting ahead as they try to clear North Vietnamese troops from Highway 13.

The South Vietnamese field commanders were reported cautious because of heavy casualties already sustained in the bloody six-week drive to open Highway 13 and lift the siege of An Loc. The equivalent of three CINCINNATI (AP) — The chairman of the Federal Maritime Commission says the International Longshoremen's Association has delayed implementation of new shipping programs that could make cities like Cincinnati centers for direct foreign commerce.

Helen Delich Bentley, the first woman to be appointed by a U.S. President to serve as chairman of the regulatory agency, said Wednesday that the ILA is standing in the way of the seaborne carriers and Lighter-Aboard Ship Concept (LASH).

Under the program, she explained that the barges are loaded at the factory and shipped directly to the foreign country without loading and re-loading at domestic and foreign ports. The LASH barges are floated down rivers like the Ohio and loaded aboard ships at ocean ports.

"But it's not going to happen," Mrs. Bentley said. "The barges are not going to come here, unless Longshore labor on our East and Gulf coasts start being a bit more realistic about handling this dramatic new concept."

Mrs. Bentley told a joint meeting of the Port of Cincinnati Propeller Club and the Ohio Valley Improvement Association that the ILA receives royalties when containers are loaded at factories. But she said, "The ILA has been unreasonable when it comes to handling the lighter-aboard-ship barges."

"Instead of allowing these barge operators the same privilege as containers, the East and Gulf longshoremen are refusing to let anyone other than ILA members handle the cargo," she said.

The accident happened about three miles west of here.

By ANN BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Female G-men? FBI employees in a dozen cities can't understand why a woman would apply to be a special agent and some special agents wouldn't want their daughters to be one.

But since Acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III reversed the late J. Edgar Hoover's rigid policy against hiring women for crime investigation, hundreds of women have inquired about becoming special agents, a spot check showed.

The telephone check of 12 field offices and a visit to bureau headquarters here turned up polite, cordial responses from employees asked for information about obtaining a job as a female special agent.

But typical of comments was this from an agent in New York who declined to give his name: "The job isn't for a woman."

There's a lot of danger involved. She'll have the same duties as men. No pampering. Now really, would you want to see your daughter packing a .38 revolver?"

A secretary at FBI headquarters, who said she's received more than 100 queries since the men-only policy was changed, said few women meet the 5-foot-7 height requirement and so far only one has applied. "Before the change," she said, "I thought I'd like to be an agent. I cried 'discrimination, discrimination.' But now that it's a possibility, I've changed my mind. Those jobs can be pretty rough."

A San Francisco agent said some of his colleagues fear women agents will make their work more dangerous.

"For instance," he said, "when you take someone with you on an arrest, he's the guy who may save your life. If a fellow is with a 120-pound girl, he'd have to do most of the job. Fellows aren't too enthusiastic about making an arrest with a girl with them."

In Dallas, a woman who said she's been with the FBI for 30 years said: "It isn't glamorous like they show you on TV. You're on call 24 hours a day. You're expected to work two hours a day overtime. You have to have an unblemished

IRA Seeks Backlash

Want Protestants To Start Violence

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — More attacks on Protestants in Northern Ireland increased the prospect today of a violent backlash which police say the Irish Republican Army is trying to provoke.

More than 20 Protestants were wounded, three Protestant homes were destroyed and 30 were damaged, three Protestants were kidnapped and one apparently was tortured Wednesday in the IRA's continuing terror campaign to unite Protestant-dominated Northern Ireland with the Roman Catholic Irish Republic.

"The IRA is absolutely set on provoking a backlash, an uprising," said a police spokesman. "It didn't get it today, but God knows what it will do to get it tomorrow. It's getting worse all the time."

A British soldier was killed during the night in a guerrilla attack at Crossmagen, a village near the border of the Irish Republic, and the bullet-riddled body of a civilian was found on the outskirts of Belfast.

The soldier was the 329th death recorded since British troops were sent to Northern Ireland in 1969 to stand between the warring Roman Catholics and Protestants. About 14,500 now patrol this troubled British province.

"If the Protestants do go out, they will not waste their power on half measures," one source said. "And they will go if it looks like Britain is preparing to break its word and give in to the IRA fight to get Uster out of the United Kingdom. If British soldiers leave the streets, the Protestants will rise."

A hundred soldiers ringed the Catholic Turf Lodge district of Belfast Wednesday where the three kidnapped Protestants were being interrogated by IRA men. The troops warned they would invade the area unless the captives were set free. They were, but the IRA hit. A sniper with a high velocity automatic rifle pumped bullets into a crowd of Protestant workers leaving a factory. Four men and a woman were wounded.

Authorize Transit Takeover Study

Councilman Willis D. Gradi-son Jr., vice chairman of the committee who supports the proposal, said a second appraisal would be required later under the law.

The proposal has been approved by city council.

The habitual traffic offender act, approved 70-16 and sent to the Senate, calls for automatic revocation of licenses for up to five years when drivers accumulate 24 points within 10 years.

Under current law, 12 points within two years can bring a six-month suspension. The measure also would provide for a one-to-three-year prison term for persons driving after their licenses had been revoked.

The environmental protection bill, which environmentalists contend is too weak and industry says is too strict, is expected to undergo considerable debate and amending before it reaches the House floor.

Passed by a 20-9 vote in the Senate, it would create a cabinet-level agency to control Ohio's ecology.

The new Ohio Environmental Protection Agency would take over the duties of the air pollution and water pollution control boards, and many of the pollution roles now handled by the Department of Health. It would assume powers now held by a variety of state agencies.

A Power Siting Commission would be created to control the location of all "major utility facilities."

Sen. Ralph Regula, D-29 Navarre, who helped author the bill after it became apparent a measure backed by Gov. John Gilligan's administration had little chance of passage, conceded it was "not a perfect bill."

Admiral Clarifies Viet Action

ABOARD USS NEWPORT NEWS (AP) — American Navy ships patrolling the Tonkin Gulf have not been ordered to intercept shipping to North Vietnam, only to warn it of mines in the harbors, officers on patrol in the gulf said today.

"We would just make sure they are clearly warned that they proceed at their own risk," one officer said.

He added that he did not know of any ship that had tried to run one of the minefields laid by U.S. planes on May 9.

Earlier, aboard the cruiser Providence, Rear Adm. W. Hay Rogers told newsmen: "We do not have a blockade, period. By placing the mines, we have taken certain actions and left other actions to individuals."

Rogers heads the flotilla of U.S. and destroyers off Vietnam.

He would not discuss specific orders but indicated clearly the fleet did not intend to challenge shipping into Haiphong. If a minesweeper or a Soviet warship approached, he said, he would confer with his superiors.

Other officers aboard the Providence and the cruiser Newport News were more specific, saying that until further orders, the mines alone were all that prevented ships from entering North Vietnamese ports.

There had been some confusion over the Navy's plans to disrupt supply traffic into North Vietnam.

Women Flock To Apply For FBI Agent Jobs

By ANN BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Female G-men? FBI employees in a dozen cities can't understand why a woman would apply to be a special agent and some special agents wouldn't want their daughters to be one.

But since Acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III reversed the late J. Edgar Hoover's rigid policy against hiring women for crime investigation, hundreds of women have inquired about becoming special agents, a spot check showed. The telephone check of 12 field offices and a visit to bureau headquarters here turned up polite, cordial responses from employees asked for information about obtaining a job as a female special agent.

But typical of comments was this from an agent in New York who declined to give his name: "The job isn't for a woman."

There's a lot of danger involved. She'll have the same duties as men. No pampering. Now really, would you want to see your daughter packing a .38 revolver?"

A secretary at FBI headquarters, who said she's received more than 100 queries since the men-only policy was changed, said few women meet the 5-foot-7 height requirement and so far only one has applied.

"Before the change," she said, "I thought I'd like to be an agent. I cried 'discrimination, discrimination.' But now that it's a possibility, I've changed my mind. Those jobs can be pretty rough."

A San Francisco agent said some of his colleagues fear women agents will make their work more dangerous. "For instance," he said, "when you take someone with you on an arrest, he's the guy who may save your life. If a fellow is with a 120-pound girl, he'd have to do most of the job. Fellows aren't too enthusiastic about making an arrest with a girl with them."

Outlook Darkens For Wallace's Walking Hopes

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — George C. Wallace is said to be in good spirits and politically enthusiastic amid indications he will be unable to resume his fight for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Doctors say one of the .38-caliber slugs that ripped into his body may leave the Alabama governor a cripple.

Wallace, shot five times at close range Monday, was alert and vigorous Wednesday when visited by his family and a few friends, but doctors attending the 52-year-old governor were becoming increasingly pessimistic about his chances of walking again.

Dr. James Galbraith, a University of Alabama neurosurgeon called to Holy Cross Hospital to attend Wallace, said his chances of ever walking again are less than even.

And if he can, Galbraith said, it will probably be only with the aid of braces.

Galbraith said one of the bullets which cut Wallace down in a nearby Laurel, Md., shopping center is wedged between two vertebrae, jutting into the bony canal that shields the spinal cord.

The bullet didn't shatter any part of the spine, but the shock of its impact caused the present paralysis, Galbraith said.

The doctor told newsmen the shock might wear off, but the longer Wallace goes without feeling in his legs the worse are his chances for recovery.

He said surgery to remove the remaining slug will be performed in another week or 10 days and that it will be a full three months or more before Wallace can recover to whatever extent possible.

Galbraith said Wallace won't be able to get around, even in a wheelchair, for four to six more weeks. This probably will rule out any campaign appearances until shortly before the July 10 Democratic National Convention, if not altogether.

The pessimism was shared by Dr. Edgar Berman, a retired Baltimore surgeon who helped organize the team that performed the initial surgery Monday, said "the bulk of the indications" point to permanent paralysis.

Berman agreed with a third doctor's statement, however, that it will take the exploratory surgery to determine precisely the extent of the spinal injury.

Wallace, meanwhile, was reported eagerly reading newspaper reports of his twin victories Tuesday in the Maryland and Michigan primaries.

His aides have said that he wants to continue campaigning, in a wheelchair if need be.

South Vietnamese divisions are committed to the drive.

Associated Press correspondent Lynn C. Newland said the strongest opposition is coming from the west side of Highway 13 where North Vietnamese forces are well entrenched to withstand air strikes.

The arrival of the 78,000-ton Saratoga from the Atlantic boosted the 7th Fleet to six carriers for the first time in the war and increased the offshore American naval force to about 46,000 men aboard more than 60 ships.

While the Saratoga was operating off the coast of South Vietnam, three other carriers—the Kitty Hawk, Midway and Hancock—raided North Vietnam from battle stations in the Tonkin Gulf.

The fifth and six carriers assigned to the Vietnam war, the Coral Sea and Constellation, are on port leave. A seventh flat top, the Ticonderoga, sailed from San Diego for Vietnam Wednesday. She is an anti-submarine warfare ship, so presumably the Navy thinks the Russians or the Chinese might use their submarines to retaliate for the mining of North Vietnamese ports.

On the northern front, South Vietnamese infantrymen extending their defenses around Hue clashed with about 100 North Vietnamese just north of Fire Base Bastogne. The Saigon command said 32 of the enemy were killed at a cost of 12 South Vietnamese wounded.

Highway 1, the main north-south highway, was reported reopened between Hue and Da Nang after repairs to a bridge that the North Vietnamese had blown up Wednesday.

The central highlands front was generally quiet.

The South Vietnamese Command said about 100 of its troops clashed with about 300 North Vietnamese near Duc Thanh, in the Mekong Delta 40 miles southeast of Saigon. The South Vietnamese claimed 97 of the enemy were killed, many of them by air and artillery strikes, and said their own losses were six killed and 13 wounded.

$18.5 Billion Education Bill Faces Coalition Of Foes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A coalition of civil-rights liberals and antibusing forces in Congress is threatening to undo a hard-won compromise on an $18.5 billion higher-education bill.

Both groups object to antibusing provisions added to the bill by House and Senate conferees—one said, because it thinks they go too far and the other because it thinks they don't go far enough.

Whether there are enough votes in the middle to save the bill—the most sweeping higher-education bill ever considered in Congress—depends in large part on the Republicans.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, who holds the key to the GOP response, declined to commit himself Wednesday when the conference agreement was announced.

"There are many, many questions to be answered and until they are, I am going to reserve judgment," said Ford.

One unanswered question is what position the Nixon administration will take. A White House lobbyist in chatting with newsmen indicated the price of administration support will be congressional action on President Nixon's own antibusing proposals.

One of Nixon's bills would nix remedies the courts could apply in desegregation cases, permitting busing only as a last-resort, temporary measure. It also would provide extra funds for inner-city schools as an alternative to desegregating them.

The other Nixon bill would declare a moratorium until June 30, 1973, on any new court busing orders. The main compromise amendment approved by the conferees Wednesday would keep federal-court busing orders from going into effect until all appeals had been exhausted. The provision would expire Dec. 30, 1973.

Extensive hearings have been held on both bills in the House Education and Judiciary committees, but most of the testimony has been in opposition to them and neither committee has shown an inclination to approve them.

The House and Senate conferees, who hammered out the higher education agreement at dawn Wednesday after an all-night session that climaxed nine weeks of meetings, expressed hope at a news conference that it would not be dragged down by the busing issue.

Stock List Posts Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rallied today after news that corporate profits in the first quarter showed the sharpest gains in a year. Trading was moderately active.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 7.07 at 948.22. Advances led declines on the New York Stock Exchange by more than 2 to 1.

The gainers included airlines, tobacco, building materials, drugs, chemicals, electronics, aircraft, farm implements, mail order-retail and glamour stocks. All other groups were mixed. Analysts cited as a stimulant a government report today that corporate profits before taxes in the first three months rose $5.6 billion to a record of $91.6 billion, the biggest increase in a year.

Garnes To Ask Welfare Funding

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio official today estimated it would cost $2 million a biennium to implement a welfare work bill that he says is illegal in the first place.

William E. Garnes, administrator of the Bureau of Employment Services, said he would reluctantly ask the controlling board for money to implement the new law, probably at its next meeting, May 25.

Garnes and acting Welfare Director Robert Carnary, both appeared before the House Select Committee on Public Assistance under threat of subpoena.

Nixon Keeps Moscow Time Open For Wide Discussions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's trip to Moscow is coming at a time of continuing discussions between the United States and the Soviet Union on a wide range of issues.

And the bulk of Nixon's time during his eight-day stay has been left free for talks likely to deal with these issues with Communist Party Chairman Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and other Soviet leaders.

Vietnam, the Middle East and Europe—all sources of East-West conflict or tension—are certain to be high on the agenda.

The two countries also are in the midst of negotiations on strategic-arms limitations, cooperation in space, trade and health research.

And still more discussions are under way on the Soviet Union's World War II lend-lease war debt to the United States and on efforts to prevent high-seas incidents between the two country's navies.

U.S. and Soviet negotiators at the strategic-arms-limitation talks (SALT) in Helsinki reportedly are near a first-stage agreement on limiting the missile race.

Gerard C. Smith, head of the U.S. negotiating team in Helsinki, is scheduled to accompany Nixon to Moscow, and some type of announcement is expected during the trip.

The Vietnam discussions appear likely to include the Nixon administration's complaints about Soviet shipment of weapons to Hanoi and Nixon's Vietnam peace offers.

The United States has been interested also in big-power restraint in the Middle East and in South Asia.

The Soviets have been calling for a security conference on Europe. Washington has shown more willingness recently to attend such a conference, but wants also to have East-West discussions on a mutual reduction of force.

Emmy Panel Freezes Out BCC Shows

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Three days after the British virtually swept the Emmy dramatic awards, the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences changed its rules.

An Academy spokesman denied Wednesday that the rules were altered because of any embarrassment at the domination by BBC entries.

Nevertheless, the action by the Academy board would tend to isolate the British shows under a new category for series that run only a specified number of episodes.

Another change makes a single episode of a series ineligible for nomination as outstanding single dramatic program. Thus series performers are, in effect, barred from nomination in the outstanding single actor and actress categories.

Under new procedures adopted Wednesday: —Glenda Jackson, who won two Emmys Sunday, could not have been named best actress in a leading role for a segment of "Elizabeth R." She still would have been eligible for best actress in a series. —"Elizabeth R." could not have been named best dramatic series. —Keith Michell could not have been named best actor in a leading role for a segment of "The Six Wives of Henry VIII."

Rent Rule Change Made

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Price Commission today announced a change in guidelines that could bring rent reductions for many tenants who recently signed one-year lease renewals increasing their rent more than 8 per cent.

Any tenant who had been on a lease of longer than one year, and who was allowed to renew for only a single year, will be given a chance to renegotiate the terms of that lease if the increase topped 8 per cent.

In such cases landlords must, starting for the month of July, give the tenant either of two options:

—A one-year lease increasing rent 3 per cent. No refunds will be required for past rent charged over 3 per cent, but from July on it must be trimmed back to that level.

—A longer lease, covering the same period as the old lease, at whatever rent increase the landlord was able to justify under the Price Commission's rent regulations.

Urge Amendments Be On Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Constitutional Revision Commission today voted to recommend to the Ohio General Assembly that the controversial package of 14 amendments rejected by Ohio courts be placed on the November ballot.

By a vote of 13-6, one more than was needed, the commission approved a repackaging of the amendments to fit the dictates of the Ohio court. The panel also approved resubmission to the legislature within 10 days.

The commission was widely at odds over the wisdom of a November submission. There were indications that Republican legislative leaders would not follow the commission's recommendation.

South Vietnamese divisions are committed to the drive.

Associated Press correspondent Lynn C. Newland said the strongest opposition is coming from the west side of Highway 13 where North Vietnamese forces are well entrenched to withstand air strikes.

The arrival of the 78,000-ton Saratoga from the Atlantic boosted the 7th Fleet to six carriers for the first time in the war and increased the offshore American naval force to about 46,000 men aboard more than 60 ships.

While the Saratoga was operating off the coast of South Vietnam, three other carriers—the Kitty Hawk, Midway and Hancock—raided North Vietnam from battle stations in the Tonkin Gulf.

The fifth and six carriers assigned to the Vietnam war, the Coral Sea and Constellation, are on port leave. A seventh flat top, the Ticonderoga, sailed from San Diego for Vietnam Wednesday. She is an anti-submarine warfare ship, so presumably the Navy thinks the Russians or the Chinese might use their submarines to retaliate for the mining of North Vietnamese ports.

On the northern front, South Vietnamese infantrymen extending their defenses around Hue clashed with about 100 North Vietnamese just north of Fire Base Bastogne. The Saigon command said 32 of the enemy were killed at a cost of 12 South Vietnamese wounded.

Highway 1, the main north-south highway, was reported reopened between Hue and Da Nang after repairs to a bridge that the North Vietnamese had blown up Wednesday.

The central highlands front was generally quiet.

The South Vietnamese Command said about 100 of its troops clashed with about 300 North Vietnamese near Duc Thanh, in the Mekong Delta 40 miles southeast of Saigon. The South Vietnamese claimed 97 of the enemy were killed, many of them by air and artillery strikes, and said their own losses were six killed and 13 wounded.

Maloney Given Choice

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ohio Senate Ways and Means Committee Chairman Mike Maloney has been told to choose between the Senate or his Hamilton County Republican Party post, the Cincinnati Enquirer said today in a copyright story.

Maloney said he was instructed by county party leaders that "I should cast my lot in politics on the elected side, or the organizational side, but not both," the Enquirer said.

Maloney has been chairman of the Senate committee since 1967 and is also GOP whip (assistant majority leader).

He has also been assistant to Hamilton County GOP chairman Earl Barnes. The job pays $16,000 a year, compared to $14,750 a year for being a senator.

Maloney has been involved in county party organizational affairs since 1962.

Corporate Profits Up For Quarter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Profits of corporations rose $5.6 billion in the first three months of the year, the biggest increase in a year, the Commerce Department said today.

The department said the increase brought before-tax profits of companies to a record $91.6 billion at a seasonally adjusted annual rate.

The increase came despite curbs on profit margins established by the Nixon administration when the Phase 2 economic controls went into effect last November.

October Hearing For Bell Telephone

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio is expected to hold hearings in October on a request by Ohio Bell Telephone Co. for permanent telephone rate increases.

Commission Chairman Henry Eckhart said today, "I anticipate that the three man commission will be able to start hearings during the first part of October."

$18.5 Billion Education Bill Faces Coalition Of Foes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A coalition of civil-rights liberals and antibusing forces in Congress is threatening to undo a hard-won compromise on an $18.5-billion higher-education bill.

Both groups object to antibusing provisions added to the bill by House and Senate conferees—one said, because it thinks they go too far and the other because it thinks they don't go far enough.

Whether there are enough votes in the middle to save the bill—the most sweeping higher-education bill ever considered in Congress—depends in large part on the Republicans.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, who holds the key to the GOP response, declined to commit himself Wednesday when the conference agreement was announced.

"There are many, many questions to be answered and until they are, I am going to reserve judgment," said Ford.

One unanswered question is what position the Nixon administration will take. A White House lobbyist in chatting with newsmen indicated the price of administration support will be congressional action on President Nixon's own antibusing proposals.

One of Nixon's bills would nix remedies the courts could apply in desegregation cases, permitting busing only as a last resort, temporary measure. It also would provide extra funds for inner-city schools as an alternative to desegregating them.

The other Nixon bill would declare a moratorium until June 30, 1973, on any new court busing orders. The main compromise amendment approved by the conferees Wednesday would keep federal-court busing orders from going into effect until all appeals had been exhausted. The provision would expire Dec. 30, 1973.

Extensive hearings have been held on both bills in the House Education and Judiciary committees, but most of the testimony has been in opposition to them and neither committee has shown an inclination to approve them.

The House and Senate conferees, who hammered out the higher education agreement at dawn Wednesday after an all-night session that climaxed nine weeks of meetings, expressed hope at a news conference that it would not be dragged down by the busing issue.

Stock List Posts Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rallied today after news that corporate profits in the first quarter showed the sharpest gains in a year. Trading was moderately active.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 7.07 at 948.22. Advances led declines on the New York Stock Exchange by more than 2 to 1.

The gainers included airlines, tobacco, building materials, drugs, chemicals, electronics, aircraft, farm implements, mail order-retail and glamour stocks. All other groups were mixed. Analysts cited as a stimulant a government report today that corporate profits before taxes in the first three months rose $5.6 billion to a record of $91.6 billion, the biggest increase in a year.

Lawyer Blasts Prepaid Service

CINCINNATI (AP) — Myron Ulrich, president of the Ohio State Bar Association, said today the group's executive committee feels that prepaid group legal service plans are "the most serious threat to face the lawyers for many years."

Ulrich said that a special bar association committee has been formed to review the various plans being used and to recommend what action the association should take. He said the current 92nd annual meeting here which winds up Saturday.

Ulrich said the committee was also charged with determining the feasibility of the association creating a plan or plans which permit a client to select his own attorney and provide a fund from which all or some part of his fee may be paid.

Garnes To Ask Welfare Funding

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio official today estimated it would cost $2 million a biennium to implement a welfare work bill that he says is illegal in the first place.

William E. Garnes, administrator of the Bureau of Employment Services, said he would reluctantly ask the controlling board for money to implement the new law, probably at its next meeting, May 25.

Garnes and acting Welfare Director Robert Carnary, both appeared before the House Select Committee on Public Assistance under threat of subpoena.

Actor And Baroness Win Damage Suit

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Cary Grant and Baroness Gracia Von Furstenberg will share a $70,000 settlement in their suit for damages arising out of an auto accident in March 1968.

The two were injured on the Long Island Expressway when the hired limousine in which they were riding to Kennedy Airport was struck by a truck. The actor was en route to California and the baroness was accompanying him as far as the airport.

Nixon Keeps Moscow Time Open For Wide Discussions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's trip to Moscow is coming at a time of continuing discussions between the United States and the Soviet Union on a wide range of issues.

And the bulk of Nixon's time during his eight-day stay has been left free for talks likely to deal with these issues with Communist Party Chairman Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and other Soviet leaders.

Vietnam, the Middle East and Europe—all sources of East-West conflict or tension—are certain to be high on the agenda.

The two countries also are in the midst of negotiations on strategic-arms limitations, cooperation in space, trade and health research.

And still more discussions are under way on the Soviet Union's World War II lend-lease war debt to the United States and on efforts to prevent high-seas incidents between the two country's navies.

U.S. and Soviet negotiators at the strategic-arms-limitation talks (SALT) in Helsinki reportedly are near a first-stage agreement on limiting the missile race.

Gerard C. Smith, head of the U.S. negotiating team in Helsinki, is scheduled to accompany Nixon to Moscow, and some type of announcement is expected during the trip.

The Vietnam discussions appear likely to include the Nixon administration's complaints about Soviet shipment of weapons to Hanoi and Nixon's Vietnam peace offers.

The United States has been interested also in big-power restraint in the Middle East and in South Asia.

The Soviets have been calling for a security conference on Europe. Washington has shown more willingness recently to attend such a conference, but wants also to have East-West discussions on a mutual reduction of force.

Emmy Panel Freezes Out BCC Shows

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Three days after the British virtually swept the Emmy dramatic awards, the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences changed its rules.

An Academy spokesman denied Wednesday that the rules were altered because of any embarrassment at the domination by BBC entries.

Nevertheless, the action by the Academy board would tend to isolate the British shows under a new category for series that run only a specified number of episodes.

Another change makes a single episode of a series ineligible for nomination as outstanding single dramatic program. Thus series performers are, in effect, barred from nomination in the outstanding single actor and actress categories.

Under new procedures adopted Wednesday:

—Glenda Jackson, who won two Emmys Sunday, could not have been named best actress in a leading role for a segment of "Elizabeth R." She still would have been eligible for best actress in a series.

—"Elizabeth R." could not have been named best dramatic series.

—Keith Michell could not have been named best actor in a leading role for a segment of "The Six Wives of Henry VIII."

Pass The Seaweed

Learned gentry of the scientific community, whose crystal ball is firmly anchored on a scientific base, frequently take an optimistic view of the future.

Such a view invariably includes the prediction that in 25 years or so man will have gained an inexhaustible source of energy by fully developing nuclear power, and a limitless food supply by learning to "farm" the sea.

Other wonders of 2000 — give or take a few years — as seen by these Pollyannas usually include all or most of this list:

Anti-cancer vaccines, home computers that translate foreign languages, electronic devices to bring great libraries into every living room, a toothpaste tube that can only be squeezed at the right end, and nuclear rocket passenger service to other planets.

Less awesome but equally thought-provoking is the prediction of these seers of how people will dress in the world of tomorrow. This shows amazing lack of originality. It never varies but always envisions clothing made of material so inexpensive that it can be thrown away after a few wearings.

This, presumably, will mean the end of the washing machine and ironing board, another step forward in the emancipation of women.

A good thing, too. They'll need all the spare time they can find to dream up ways of making seaweed palatable.

Also Rans

Ever hear of Charles Pinckney, Rufus King, William Wirt, Neal Dow, James G. Birney or Gerrit Smith? Except for the fickleness — or wisdom — of the voters, history could have been very different.

For these are some of the men who ran for the presidency — and didn't make it.

There are many others whose names could be added to the list, and a few more no doubt will join them after the current campaign. Some losers went on to gain high office after their defeat and others achieved a degree of fame in other fields.

Many of them, like those mentioned, have received little attention in chronicles of the past.

Many others, no doubt, have similar ambitions but never make it even to the also-ran status in the presidential sweepstakes. The odds against making the race have increased in recent years unless the prospective candidate commands a sizable fortune.

But for every successful presidential candidate, there is at least one who might have been — except for the voters.

Planely Fair

Arguments over whether it is right to charge users for government services ignore the national highway trust fund. The fund has built many miles of roadways, it is still richly endowed — and it exists on funds contributed by users through special taxes.

If the concept of user taxes has worked for highways, why not airports? Airlines have been fighting user taxation in the courts, but the U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that states and local governments can levy taxes or special fees on passengers boarding at a publicly operated airport.

That should settle the question, although cities and states would be well advised not to take advantage of the green light the courts have provided.

Airport expansion and modernization require expensive but necessary outlays by communities geographically situated to handle air traffic. User taxes may still cover only a small part of these costs. But the principle is sound that he who benefits most should help defray the cost.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Business is becoming more concerned with the Price Commission.

It used to think of the commission as another bureaucratic irritant that must be lived with. Now the irritation is beginning to sting, and there seems to be growing fears that a running sore is developing.

The commission is being blamed as much as the Vietnam war for stalling the stock market, and there is concern that a timid stock market could undermine business confidence as well.

The reasons for concern are easily culled from conversations at business meetings or from casual remarks during interviews. Among them:

—A realization that the commission's rulings can really cut into profits, a fact that business was slow to appreciate.

—A feeling that the commission's pronouncements are sometimes difficult to comprehend and comply with.

—Evidence that the commission trips over its own red tape, as in inaccurately charging some companies with failing to file required profit reports and then having to apologize.

—Fear that controls may not work.

While this latter reason may or may not imply a lack of confidence in the commission, itself, it seems clear that some businessmen have lost what little faith they had in controls.

Indirectly, this attitude is reflected in reports of corporate economists that increasingly express the belief that inflation will be rekindled later this year and be a serious problem in 1973.

After supporting the imposition of controls as a desperate but necessary stopgap, some businessmen now seem to wonder why they foresook their traditional belief that a free market is the best market.

Among the more outspoken critics is Albert H. Cox, Jr., chief economist of Lionel D. Edie & Co., and former special assistant to Paul McCracken when he was chairman of Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers.

Edie clients, which include some of the country's largest companies, have just received a "confidential special analysis" on "Nixon, Grayson, and the outlook," in which Cox lambasts the commission.

Cox implies that it is sometimes the commission's methods rather than its decisions alone that concern business planners. He specifically cites the commission's "publicity" about price rollbacks and non-compliance.

The commission, he states, "does not have the 'horses' to handle such a complex job, and it never will." The word "never" is underlined in the report.

He concludes that if "it," presumably meaning the alleged inefficiency, "goes on to long, profits could be throttled, the upswing in capital spending could be threatened, and unemployment could go higher instead of lower."

I have a scar from an appendectomy performed when I was a child. What would the process be to have it removed?

Mrs. S. L., Mich.

Dear Mrs. L.:

Scars on the abdominal wall, the face or anywhere on the body can be removed. It is rare for one to want an appendectomy scar taken out since it usually has no great cosmetic importance. As small as bikinis are, they probably can adequately cover yours and save you the trouble and expense of having it removed.

All scars can be removed by surgery or by a process known as dermabrasion. A scar removed by surgery may result in a similar scar, especially if you are prone to keloid, or thick scar formation.

Dermabrasion is a "sandpapering" method performed with a rotating burr. In many cases, this technique brings gratifying results. Your own physician, of course, can refer you to a plastic surgeon if you decide you must have this operation.

What are the most common reasons for jaundice? My wife has had two attacks in the last four years. She recovered from both.

Mr. T. Y., N. J.

Dear Mr. Y.:

Jaundice is a yellowish discoloration of the skin and the lining of the eyes due to the accumulation of bile pigments in the bloodstream. The fact that your wife has had two attacks and has recovered from both is a good indication that she has no great cause for alarm.

Certainly, extensive study must have been made to uncover the reason for these attacks.

The causes of jaundice are many; some are more serious than others. Gall bladder stones and inflammation of the bile ducts are two such causes. A virus infection of the liver, cirrhosis of the liver, amebic dysentery and a whole spectrum of blood diseases can also be responsible.

Cancer of the pancreas and toxic reactions following blood transfusions are all part of the vast array of causes.

I deliberately mention these to illustrate how impossible it is for a layman to evaluate the reasons for jaundice.

A physician armed with all of the many elaborate blood studies and X-rays can almost always pinpoint the cause of jaundice and proceed with the treatment of its underlying cause.

The edges of bathtubs are not safe seats. They are wet and slippery and severe injuries can occur by falling backward.

Vietnam

By JEFFERY HARL

I have delayed until now any comment on the apparent significance of the North Vietnamese invasion and on President Nixon's speech and semi-blockade. The military-political process there is still incomplete, and the whole situation is many-faceted. Yet whatever facet you hold up for inspection, the thing looks exceedingly bleak.

Take the first and probably fundamental facet. The South Vietnamese plus our equipment have absorbed initial defeats at the hands of the North Vietnamese plus Soviet equipment. Nothing so far suggests that the Southerners are going to reverse the situation. According to the Nixon Doctrine, which is I think sound, we will provide equipment to those who are willing to defend themselves; but it is a corollary of the Nixon Doctrine that such defense may be unsuccessful.

President Nixon's speech, with its offer of a cease-fire in present positions, implicitly confirms the gloomiest military estimate. Furthermore, nothing seems likely to change the power balance between North and South Vietnam, either next year or five years from now: not more equipment for the ARVN, not more training, not more U.S. funds.

In its own way the semi-blockade confirms this gloomy analysis, for it deliberately attempts to shift the focus of the conflict. It is directed not so much against the North Vietnamese as against the Soviets, and by conscious design it injects Soviet prestige into the situation. In effect Nixon is saying that the Soviets themselves now risk some embarrassment, though, perhaps through agreement, we will not actually attack Soviet shipping. They, in turn, can extricate themselves from this predicament by joining with the U.S. to impose a compromise peace in Indochina. And Nixon backs up this threat by putting at hazard things like SALT talks, trade deals and so on, which presumably, the Soviets desire.

But the whole package represents a very long shot. Historically, the best blockades have been evaded, at least in part. Any mine that we can lay in the harbor at Haiphong can, with effort, be swept or harmlessly detonated. Though we can bomb the railroads they can also repair them. And the Communists have shown that they can move all the supplies they require by truck convoy. The tanks employed in the current offensive apparently came down the Ho Chi Minh Trail on their own treads. In the long run, therefore, the supplies will reach Hanoi, even if it takes more effort to get them there. The semi-blockade, then, is a short-run measure, a desperate attempt to strengthen our hand in the negotiating process, and it probably will not strengthen it much.

Yet looking at another facet of the situation, an enormously high risk is involved. Not, I think, the risk of World War III: the Soviets can analyze the situation as well as we can, and their position on the chessboard is rather stronger than ours. The real risk here is the one of electing George McGovern President, and this means that any plausible gain in the negotiations over Vietnam is far outweighed by the political risks in the U.S.

The Democrats have fielded a weak set of candidates this year. Hubert Humphrey is a responsible man, but he has many weaknesses as a candidate, and George McGovern could emerge as the Democratic nominee. Under normal circumstances, Nixon would be expected to defeat him handily. But against a backdrop of military and diplomatic disaster he might not be able to do so. General Giap might not be restrained by U.S.-Soviet negotiations. Giap got rid of Lyndon Johnson in 1968, in a manner of speaking, and it might please him to get rid of Richard Nixon in 1972.

In this situation, as in any other, the moment comes when it is time to make a final assessment, and, if need be, minimize one's losses. In view of his policy proposals, the election of McGovern would be a national disaster. If this gloomy assessment is correct, therefore, we should wind up the war and, bearing in mind the example of the Cuban refugees, offer sanctuary in the U.S. for any and all South Vietnamese who desire it.

Dear Editor:

In ref: to Letter to the Editor that was in your news recently — the three ladies complaining about the Amanda school bus driver.

I personally want to thank these ladies for the insight their letter gave me on the many problems of driving a school bus for Amanda-Clearcreek.

I had definite plans to attend the classes in June to drive a bus for A.C. Now, after their "eye-opening" letter, I would not drive for this district, come what may!

How pathetic to see this good person put down publicly just for showing the good sense and ability to handle a difficult situation.

What would you ladies have done in the same situation? How would you react to the bus stalled on the railroad tracks?

Have you ever slid on icy roads or been in a ditch while driving in winter weather?

What do you suggest the drivers do for discipline on the buses?

Lets set this blame where it belongs; discipline begins at the home with the parents.

What about Kinsers Hill? How would you ladies have handled this?

It's easy to sit on the sidelines and find fault with someone who is putting time, effort and work into a service that we all gain from, but isn't it pathetic?

The teachers and drivers in this school district are doing a fine job with our children, lets show them some respect and consideration! They certainly deserve our support!

With all the knowledge these ladies have of driving a schoolbus, certainly one of them should drive for our school! We have a desperate need for drivers.

As for myself, I certainly hope I never have to drive for this district! Children I can cope with, parents — never!

Dear Editor:

I am writing to urge everyone of you to express their support of the bold steps announced by President Richard Nixon in his address to the nation Monday evening, May 8.

The President has ordered a blockade of the ports of North Vietnam to prevent war supplies from reaching that nation. This is an action that the Veterans of Foreign Wars has advocated for more than six years.

Commander-in-chief Joseph Viciates has asked that the Auxiliary join with the Veterans of Foreign Wars in expressing our support for the President.

With Mr. Viciates I share the belief that the President's action was necessary to protect the lives of the 60,000 American troops in Vietnam.

President Nixon said that the blockade will cease when American prisoners of war are released and an internationally supervised cease-fire has begun throughout Indo-China. At that time he will order a complete withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam within four months.

I think our President needs and deserves our support in this difficult hour. Please write immediately. Urge others to write. The address: President Richard M. Nixon, The White House, Washington, D. C.

Today is Thursday, May 18, the 139th day of 1972. There are 227 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1804, Napoleon Bonaparte was proclaimed emperor of France.

On this date: In 1860, a Republican convention in Chicago nominated Abraham Lincoln for president.

In 1863, the Civil War siege of Vicksburg, Miss., began.

In 1899, an international peace conference was convened at The Hague in the Netherlands.

In 1933, the Tennessee Valley Authority was created.

In 1941, in World War II, Italian forces in Ethiopia surrendered.

In 1951, the United Nations moved from Lake Success, N.Y., to new headquarters in Manhattan.

Ten years ago: The Secret Army Organization in France sent death threats to the nine military judges who were trying former Raoul Salan for his underground activities.

Five years ago: The United Nations agreed to an Egyptian demand to withdraw U.N. forces from the Gaza Strip.

One year ago: Canadian Premier Pierre Trudeau was meeting with top Soviet officials in Moscow.

Enter Not Guilty Pleas In Outbreak

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Six of the eight persons police said were leaders of the Ohio State University demonstration last Friday pleaded innocent in Municipal Court Tuesday to charges against them. The two others entered no pleas.

The demonstration occurred after President Nixon announced his decision to mine North Vietnamese harbors. More than 70 persons were arrested and 30 persons injured.

More than 1.3 million new major appliances were purchased by Texas residents in 1971. Refrigerators topped the list.

They'll Do It Every Time

Pass The Seaweed

Learned gentry of the scientific community, whose crystal ball is firmly anchored on a scientific base, frequently take an optimistic view of the future.

Such a view invariably includes the prediction that in 25 years or so man will have gained an inexhaustible source of energy by fully developing nuclear power, and a limitless food supply by learning to "farm" the sea.

Other wonders of 2000 — give or take a few years — as seen by these Pollyannas usually include all or most of this list:

Anti-cancer vaccines, home computers that translate foreign languages, electronic devices to bring great libraries into every living room, a toothpaste tube that can only be squeezed at the right end, and nuclear rocket passenger service to other planets.

Less awesome but equally thought-provoking is the prediction of these seers of how people will dress in the world of tomorrow. This shows amazing lack of originality. It never varies but always envisions clothing made of material so inexpensive that it can be thrown away after a few wearings.

This, presumably, will mean the end of the washing machine and ironing board, another step forward in the emancipation of women.

A good thing, too. They'll need all the spare time they can find to dream up ways of making seaweed palatable.

Also Rans

Ever hear of Charles Pinckney, Rufus King, William Wirt, Neal Dow, James G. Birney or Gerrit Smith? Except for the fickleness — or wisdom — of the voters, history could have been very different.

For these are some of the men who ran for the presidency — and didn't make it.

There are many others whose names could be added to the list, and a few more no doubt will join them after the current campaign. Some losers went on to gain high office after their defeat and others achieved a degree of fame in other fields.

Many of them, like those mentioned, have received little attention in chronicles of the past.

Many others, no doubt, have similar ambitions but never make it even to the also-ran status in the presidential sweepstakes. The odds against making the race have increased in recent years unless the prospective candidate commands a sizable fortune.

But for every successful presidential candidate, there is at least one who might have been — except for the voters.

Planely Fair

Arguments over whether it is right to charge users for government services ignore the national highway trust fund. The fund has built many miles of roadways, it is still richly endowed — and it exists on funds contributed by users through special taxes.

If the concept of user taxes has worked for highways, why not airports? Airlines have been fighting user taxation in the courts, but the U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that states and local governments can levy taxes or special fees on passengers boarding at a publicly operated airport.

That should settle the question, although cities and states would be well advised not to take advantage of the green light the courts have provided.

Airport expansion and modernization require expensive but necessary outlays by communities geographically situated to handle air traffic. User taxes may still cover only a small part of these costs. But the principle is sound that he who benefits most should help defray the cost.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Business is becoming more concerned with the Price Commission.

It used to think of the commission as another bureaucratic irritant that must be lived with. Now the irritation is beginning to sting, and there seems to be growing fears that a running sore is developing.

The commission is being blamed as much as the Vietnam war for stalling the stock market, and there is concern that a timid stock market could undermine business confidence as well.

The reasons for concern are easily culled from conversations at business meetings or from casual remarks during interviews. Among them:

—A realization that the commission's rulings can really cut into profits, a fact that business was slow to appreciate.

—A feeling that the commission's pronouncements are sometimes difficult to comprehend and comply with.

—Evidence that the commission trips over its own red tape, as in inaccurately charging some companies with failing to file required profit reports and then having to apologize.

—Fear that controls may not work.

While this latter reason may or may not imply a lack of confidence in the commission, itself, it seems clear that some businessmen have lost what little faith they had in controls.

Indirectly, this attitude is reflected in reports of corporate economists that increasingly express the belief that inflation will be rekindled later this year and be a serious problem in 1973.

After supporting the imposition of controls as a desperate but necessary stopgap, some businessmen now seem to wonder why they foresook their traditional belief that a free market is the best market.

Among the more outspoken critics is Albert H. Cox, Jr., chief economist of Lionel D. Edie & Co., and former special assistant to Paul McCracken when he was chairman of Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers.

Edie clients, which include some of the country's largest companies, have just received a "confidential special analysis" on "Nixon, Grayson, and the outlook," in which Cox lambasts the commission.

Cox implies that it is sometimes the commission's methods rather than its decisions alone that concern business planners. He specifically cites the commission's "publicity" about price rollbacks and non-compliance.

The commission, he states, "does not have the 'horses' to handle such a complex job, and it never will." The word "never" is underlined in the report.

He concludes that if "it," presumably meaning the alleged inefficiency, "goes on to long, profits could be throttled, the upswing in capital spending could be threatened, and unemployment could go higher instead of lower."

Federal Narcotics Agents End 'Belgian Connection'

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal narcotics officials say the case of the Belgian Connection began with a straightforward offer to a U.S. Army sergeant in Brussels: Smuggle 264 pounds of heroin into the United States and collect $96,000.

But the sergeant wasn't playing the smuggler's $50 million game. His tip touched off a three-month transatlantic cat-and-mouse game that ended Tuesday with the arrest of five men here and two in Paris.

John E. Ingersoll, director of the federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, said police in three countries cooperated in smashing what he termed one of the largest drug smuggling plots ever uncovered.

Ingersoll gave this account at a news conference:

Christian Frederick, 34, and Gilbert Ibarra, 35, approached the unnamed Army sergeant stationed at the NATO headquarters in Brussels.

They offered him the $96,000 and he alerted his superiors. An undercover agent from Ingersoll's bureau posed as another sergeant who frequently flew to the United States in a general's plane that was not searched by customs.

Ingersoll said the ring gave the undercover "sergeant" a $3,000 advance and he made a test run to Washington and New York to pick out a place where he would leave the heroin.

On Saturday the gang delivered the 264 pounds of heroin—worth an estimated $50 million—to the undercover agent in Brussels. All but seven pounds was seized and flour substituted.

Then the agent flew to Washington, rented a car and drove the load here. At 7 a.m. Tuesday he parked the car on Third Avenue between 59th and 60th Streets and walked away.

For 15 minutes the defendants watched the car, then one got in and drove to Queens where they were arrested. Paris police meanwhile seized Frederick and Ibarra.

Pale Dresses, Jackets Mark Fashion Showing

By ANN HENCKEN

NEW YORK (AP) — The pale dress with the pale jacket—that's Chester Weinberg for fall.

"I just feel paleness, as opposed to murky, dark sadness or bright bugles," said Chester following the fall of Chester Weinberg Ltd., Chester Now, the less expensive line, and C.W. for Samuel Robert, a line of leathers.

He uses all one color for his ensembles.

"It's monochromatic, where one color changes only with the textures," said Chester.

Picture a pale peach suede jacket over a long pale peach dress. That's Chester. Peach on peach. White on white. Blue on blue.

"That's what I wanted to do and I did it. I'm never going to be halfway anything I believe in again—instead of trying to be all things to all people," said Chester.

His collection went heavy on the cardigan jacket—with no buttons, just a clean, straight shape.

"I have as few belts and buttons as possible. It's very uncomplicated. For me, it's the culmination of everything I started three years ago, the unconstructed look," said Chester.

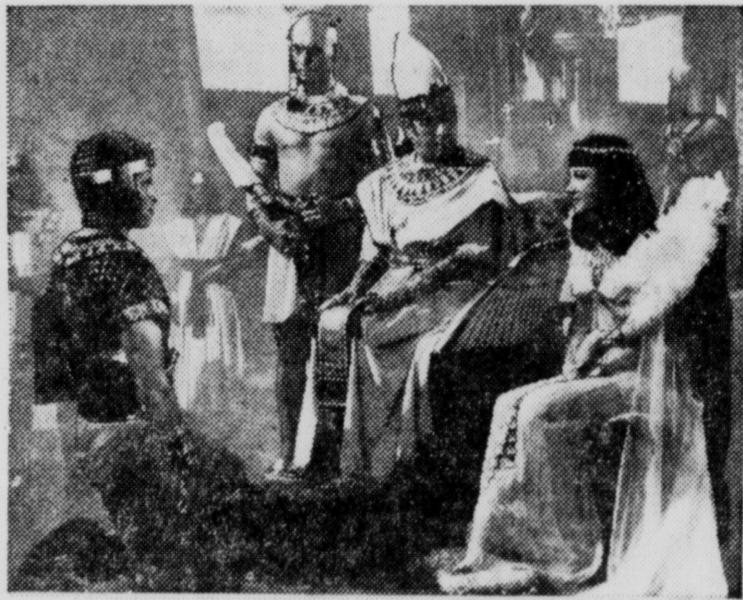

When Chester doesn't use the cardigan jacket, he uses the deep v-necked jacket, with an elasticized waist.

These two jacket styles go over all manner of simple A-line skirts, or pants.

It's very simple. The trick is in the tone-on-tone look, and it's a very good collection. It's clear and pale and luxurious. It has a distinct style all its own.

Mollie Parnis stuck to her ladylike feeling with good colors.

Giorgio di Sant 'Angelo brought out his knit line for Great Times with a great flourish of grape and grey patterned dresses and jackets. They are busy-looking and sort of fun, with layers and sweaters and so on.

Volunteers Needed By Red Cross

Pickaway County Red Cross Chapter is in need of Volunteers, men or women, to assist in its motor service.

The service is given through referral of agencies in the county. Many people do not have transportation to clinics, hospitals and doctor's offices in Columbus and Chillicothe. In the past few months Volunteers have taken patients to these places for medical service on the average of five days a week with some trips taking three or more persons in the Red Cross station wagon.

This service, started on a small basis, has grown each month. Also needed is a Volunteer to take the responsibility of scheduling the drivers, patients and cars. A retired man or woman could fill this job and there is no need for them to drive.

Requirements for a driver includes ability to drive in Columbus traffic, take a six hour orientation and wear a uniform to identify themselves. There is also a few hours additional training for the specific service to the Volunteer will supply.

Mrs. Polly Miller will instruct new Volunteers from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. Friday, May 26th at the Red Cross Chapter House, 167 Watt St. Those attending are asked to bring a sack lunch.

Ohio Divorce Law Ruled Not Valid

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Hamilton County judge has ruled unconstitutional an Ohio law stipulating that a person must live in the state one year before he can file for a divorce. Judge George Heitzler of the county domestic relations court issued the decision Wednesday in the case of a woman who moved here recently from Florida.

Heitzler said the law infringes on a person's constitutional right to travel. He also said it would cause "evident injury" to children involved in a divorce petition.

The woman, Blance Monroe, got a job when she arrived in Cincinnati and enrolled her oldest children in public schools, which showed her intention to remain in the city, Heitzler said.

Mrs. Monroe told the court her husband attacked her with a knife at their home in Florida and then followed her here and threatened her life.

Heitzler did not rule on the county's 90-day residency requirement in divorce proceedings, and the law remains in effect.

Warning Blasts Wake Loaded Engineer

WARSAW (AP) — Horrified railroad officials frantically tried to stop a giant locomotive as it sped towards a string of freight cars filled with gasoline. Red stop signals, warning torchlights, whistles and horns, had failed to get the driver to respond.

A line superintendent phoned workers further down the track to place warning detonator charges into the path of the speeding loco.

After the second charge exploded the train came to a screeching halt.

The explosions woke up driver Jan Golawski and fireman Waldemar Zalewski. Both were drunk and had fallen asleep.

The two men were jailed for 18 months.

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Hamilton County judge has ruled unconstitutional an Ohio law stipulating that a person must live in the state one year before he can file for a divorce.

Judge George Heitzler of the county domestic relations court issued the decision Wednesday in the case of a woman who moved here recently from Florida.

Heitzler said the law infringes on a person's constitutional right to travel. He also said it would cause "evident injury" to children involved in a divorce petition.

The woman, Blanche Monroe, got a job when she arrived in Cincinnati and enrolled her oldest children in public schools, which showed her intention to remain in the city, Heitzler said.

Mrs. Monroe told the court her husband attacked her with a knife at their home in Florida and then followed her here and threatened her life.

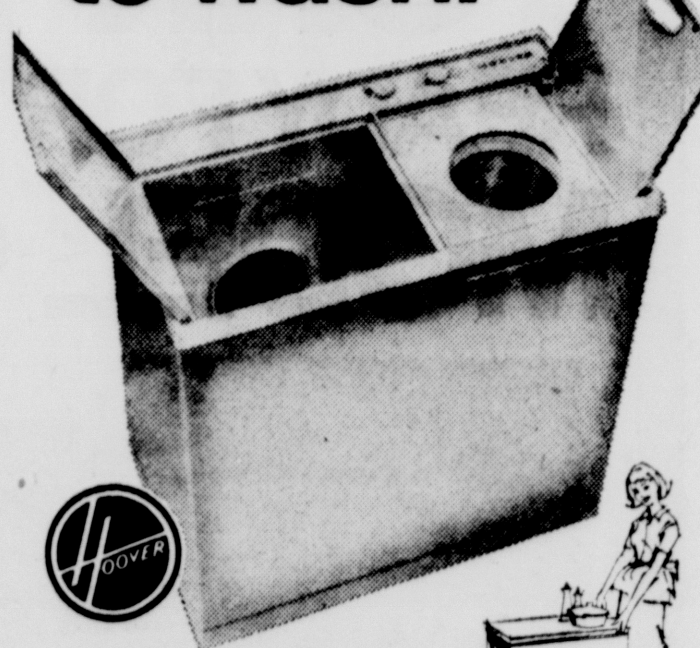

Heitzler did not rule on the county's 90-day residency requirement in divorce proceedings, and the law remains in effect.

Sneek-A-Peek

By Pickaway County Library Staff

In planning for the Library's summer reading program for boys and girls, the Sneek-A-Peek Room has been stocked with recreational reading. Notations of some of these books are listed below.

This year the Reading Club will meet every week day morning in June. Members will be encouraged to select books for pleasure reading, and the children's librarian will be on hand to tell stories and to assist in book selection.

As before, the Kiwanis Club of Circleville is sponsoring the program. Because of their generosity, children who participate will receive record folders, pins, and, if earned, certificates.

In the manner of Dr. Seuss, Michael Frith has created an appealing "I Can Read" book for beginners. It is called "Some of us Work, Some Fly, Some Swim."

"The Monster Behind Black Rock" was no monster at all. He was an exaggeration of a story about a furry caterpillar, who grew with each retelling. Judy Varga wrote this story with a moral and drew the animal pictures for it.

Ellen Koshland, working with disadvantaged children, learned that they preferred photographic illustrations over paintings. So her "Magic Lollipop" camera shots of Reggie, whose lollipop could bring him presents and fun. Eventually it helped him to entertain his friends. This is an especially attractive book.

Young horse lovers will welcome the latest Elisa Bialk book, "Tiz South of the Border." It is for the reader who is experiencing his first independent reading.

It is always pleasing to come upon good stories from the Bible, which are written for juniors. "Joseph the Dreamer" by Clyde Bulla is a sensitive retelling of an old favorite. Garion Laite's color and black and white illustrations reflect the artist's appreciation of Joseph's great forgiveness, wisdom, and courage.

"The Jezebel Wolf" by F. N. Monjo is the retelling of the exciting hunt for a killer wolf in the winter of 1742-43. Israel Putnam tells the story to his children as they cuddle under the heavy gray wolf skin.

"Fractions are Parts of Things" is a basic introduction book in arithmetic. Very clearly presented, it was written by J. Richard Dennis.

Budding young scientists may start a rock collection after they see "Secrets in Stones" by Rose Wyler and Gerald Ames.

Too often biographies which are written for children are colorless, portraying their subjects as paragons of virtue. Sam and Berge Epstein have not followed this tradition in writing "Winston Churchill, Lion of Britain." Their Churchill has flesh and blood and anger and passion. Moreover, the book encompasses his entire life and accomplishments, so young readers get more than a picture of Victorian childhood.

Sowle Backs Suspension Of Hearings

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University President Claude Sowle applauded as "fair and equitable to all concerned" a state appointed referee's decision to temporarily suspend disciplinary hearings for 75 students arrested in a campus sit-in.

Sowle said the action "maintains the status quo pending federal court action" on an injunction sought by the American Civil Liberties Union.

Hearings referee Edward Johnston, a Logan attorney, stayed the proceedings Wednesday after attorneys for the defendants agreed not to object later if the continuances went beyond the 10-day period for hearings prescribed in the state's campus disruptions law.

An injunction to enjoin the hearings was asked in an ACLU suit filed in U.S. District Court in Columbus challenging the constitutionality of the two-year-old campus disruptions law.

The suit contends hearing procedures required by the law violate seven amendments to the U.S. Constitution.

Under the law, students arrested during campus disorders face suspension from school or probation until completion of court proceedings on criminal charges. If convicted in court, they are to be expelled from school.

The Ohio University students were arrested May 10 when police broke up a sit-in held at the school's administration building to protest President Nixon's decision to mine North Vietnamese harbors.

Pleasant Weather Favors Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fair skies and balmy temperatures favored most of the nation today, with these exceptions:

—The Northwest and Northeast were cool, with temperatures in the 50s.

—The Northwest, Northern Plains, the Ozarks and some Eastern states were spotted with an occasional shower or thundershower.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 37 at Redmond, Ore., to 82 at Phoenix, Ariz.

Gilligan Visits New Prison, Eyes Rehabilitation Plans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. John Gilligan inspected Ohio's shiny new maximum security penitentiary Tuesday and expressed a hope it would be a springboard for a "meaningful" program of rehabilitation in the state's prisons.

"With this institution on the line and the increased pay scale (for guards), we now have the ability to start a program of rehabilitation, of making decent and law-abiding and self-sufficient people, instead of turning criminals loose on the state," Gilligan said.

The governor voiced hope that the program eventually would reduce Ohio's prison population, now at 9,500, so the state could close down "antique institutions that have been failures—very, very big failures."

Gilligan conducted newsmen on a tour of the giant, $32 million prison, officially named the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility, which sometime this summer will house the 1,600 convicts now in the 100-year-old penitentiary in Columbus.

While Gilligan obviously was proud of the modern facility, with its gaily decorated halls and color-keyed cells with barless windows, he was not 100 per cent sold on it.

He clung to his contention that building a prison this big and this far from the urban centers of Ohio was a "basic and fundamental mistake."

"Never, in my opinion," Gilligan said, "will another institution of this kind be built so far removed from the urban centers."

"But, we've got to live with it. It's here and no one expects us to walk away from a $32 million institution."

Construction of the penitentiary began under the administration of former Gov. James Rhodes.

Gilligan indicated the state might build smaller maximum security institutions in the industrialized northern half of the state, but didn't say when this might happen.

Toledo Fire Brings Probe For Arson

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Fire Chief Eulan Tucker said arson was suspected in a series of explosions and a spectacular fire Wednesday night at an outside storage area for paint thinner and paint supplies.

Tucker said he believed the fire might have been set because it occurred in an open area, and it was unlikely the fire would have started on its own.

The fire in the storage area behind the north side Buckeye Paint and Varnish Co. plant sent up flames and smoke that could be seen for miles.

Hundred of 55-gallon drums and smaller containers of paint supplies were destroyed. No estimate of damage was available.

There were no injuries. Flames scorched a tire company plant nearby, but caused no other damage to the building.

About 40 firemen and 12 pieces of equipment were sent to battle the fire, which was brought under control in less than two hours. A pumper remained on the scene overnight to guard against the fire breaking out again.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio General Assembly will be asked by Secretary of State Ted Brown to reimburse counties for the additional expenses they incurred during the selection of Democratic convention delegates and alternates in the May 2 primary.

Brown said items to be included in the request would be printing costs of the newspaper-size paper ballots, labor costs for additional personnel used in counting the votes, and the cost of additional ballot boxes and voting booths used in the primary.

Reimbursement also will be requested from the legislature. Brown added, for the costs of advertising the state lottery issue and constitutional amendment package which later were stricken from the ballot by court action.

Sneek-A-Peek

By Pickaway County Library Staff

In planning for the Library's summer reading program for boys and girls, the Sneek-A-Peek Room has been stocked with recreational reading. Notations of some of these books are listed below.

This year the Reading Club will meet every weekday morning in June. Members will be encouraged to select books for pleasure reading, and the children's librarian will be on hand to tell stories and to assist in book selection.

As before, the Kiwanis Club of Circleville is sponsoring the program. Because of their generosity, children who participate will receive record folders, pins, and, if earned, certificates.

In the manner of Dr. Seuss, Michael Frith has created an appealing "I Can Read" book for beginners. It is called "Some of us Work, Some Fly, Some Swim."

"The Monster Behind Black Rock" was no monster at all. He was an exaggeration of a story about a furry caterpillar, who grew with each retelling. Judy Varga wrote this story-with-a-moral and drew the animal pictures for it.

Ellen Koshland, working with disadvantaged children, learned that they preferred photographic illustrations over paintings. So her "Magic Lollipop" camera shots of Reggie, whose lollipop could bring him presents and fun. Eventually it helped him to entertain his friends. This is an especially attractive book.

Young horse lovers will welcome the latest Elisa Blak book, "Tiz South of the Border." It is for the reader who is experiencing his first independent reading.

It is always pleasing to come upon good stories from the Bible, which are written for juniors. "Joseph the Dreamer" by Clyde Bulla is a sensitive retelling of an old favorite. Garlon Laite's color and black and white illustrations reflect the artist's appreciation of Joseph's great forgiveness, wisdom, and courage.

"The Jezebel Wolf" by F. N. Monjo is the retelling of the exciting hunt for a killer wolf in the winter of 1742-43. Israel Putnam tells the story to his children as they cuddle under the heavy gray wolf skin.

"Fractions are Parts of Things" is a basic introduction book in arithmetic. Very clearly presented, it was written by J. Richard Dennis.

Budding young scientists may start a rock collection after they see "Secrets in Stones" by Rose Wyler and Gerald Ames.

Too often biographies which are written for children are colorless, portraying their subjects as paragons of virtue. Sam and Berge Epstein have not followed this tradition in writing "Winston Churchill, Lion of Britain." Their Churchill has flesh and blood and anger and passion. Moreover, the book encompasses his entire life and accomplishments, so young readers get more than a picture of Victorian childhood.

Sowle Backs Suspension Of Hearings

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University President Claude Sowle applauded as "fair and equitable to all concerned" a state appointed referee's decision to temporarily suspend disciplinary hearings for 75 students arrested in a campus sit-in.

Sowle said the action "maintains the status quo pending federal court action" on an injunction sought by the American Civil Liberties Union.

Hearings referee Edward Johnston, a Logan attorney, stayed the proceedings Wednesday after attorneys for the defendants agreed not to object later if the continuances went beyond the 10-day period for hearings prescribed in the state's campus disruptions law.

An injunction to enjoin the hearings was asked in an ACLU suit filed in U.S. District Court in Columbus challenging the constitutionality of the two-year-old campus disruptions law.

The suit contends hearing procedures required by the law violate seven amendments to the U.S. Constitution.

Under the law, students arrested during campus disorders face suspension from school or probation until completion of court proceedings on criminal charges. If convicted in court, they are to be expelled from school.

The Ohio University students were arrested May 10 when police broke up a sit-in held at the school's administration building to protest President Nixon's decision to mine North Vietnamese harbors.

Gilligan Visits New Prison, Eyes Rehabilitation Plans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan inspected Ohio's shiny new maximum security penitentiary Tuesday and expressed a hope it would be a springboard for a "meaningful" program of rehabilitation in the state's prisons.

"With this institution on the line and the increased pay scale (for guards), we now have the ability to start a program of rehabilitation, of making decent and law-abiding and self-sufficient people, instead of turning criminals loose on the state," Gilligan said.

The governor voiced hope that the program eventually would reduce Ohio's prison population, now at 9,500, so the state could close down "antique institutions that have been failures—very, very big failures."

Gilligan conducted newsmen on a tour of the giant, $32 million prison, officially named the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility, which sometime this summer will house the 1,600 convicts now in the 100-year-old penitentiary in Columbus.

While Gilligan obviously was proud of the modern facility, with its gaily decorated halls and color-keyed cells with barless windows, he was not 100 per cent sold on it.

He clung to his contention that building a prison this big and this far from the urban centers of Ohio was a "basic and fundamental mistake."

"Never, in my opinion," Gilligan said, "will another institution of this kind be built so far removed from the urban centers."

"But, we've got to live with it. It's here and no one expects us to walk away from a $32 million institution."

Construction of the penitentiary began under the administration of former Gov. James Rhodes.

Gilligan indicated the state might build smaller maximum security institutions in the industrialized northern half of the state, but didn't say when this might happen.

Toledo Fire Brings Probe For Arson

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Fire Chief Eulan Tucker said arson was suspected in a series of explosions and a spectacular fire Wednesday night at an outside storage area for paint thinner and paint supplies.

Tucker said he believed the fire might have been set because it occurred in an open area, and it was unlikely the fire would have started on its own.

The fire in the storage area behind the north side Buckeye Paint and Varnish Co. plant sent up flames and smoke that could be seen for miles.

Hundred of 55-gallon drums and smaller containers of paint supplies were destroyed. No estimate of damage was available.

There were no injuries. Flames scorched a tire company plant nearby, but caused no other damage to the building.

About 40 firemen and 12 pieces of equipment were sent to battle the fire, which was brought under control in less than two hours. A pumper remained on the scene overnight to guard against the fire breaking out again.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Single Gal Needs Help

DEAR ABBY: Is it a crime to be single? I am a woman in my 40s and I've never been married. Please tell me what to say to people who ask, "How come you're not married?"

I work in an office with a group of girls who are from 20 to 30 years old. Most are married and have been for a long time.

I have two sisters who are married, and two brothers, also married. This makes me look like an outcast. My nieces, who are 18 and up, talk about nothing except finding a guy and getting married.

I dread to go to work in the morning, and I even turn down invitations because I am always the odd one.

Dear Abby, please tell me what to say to these heartless people.

DAILY READER
DEAR READER: You need not apologize for your unmarried status. (Some are single by choice, and have better lives than their married friends.) Your problem is feeling self-conscious about it. Forget it.

Some legitimate reasons why a woman your age is single:

A preference for variety.

A satisfying arrangement with one who cannot marry her.

Prefers to look after herself and nobody else.

Hasn't met anyone for whom she'd trade her independence.

And if anyone has the nerve to ask you why you're not married, look right through him as though he were speaking a foreign language.

DEAR MISS VAN BUREN: I was intrigued by the letter from the woman concerned about privacy in the matter of marital status. I believe her purposes would be better served by using initials rather than the abbreviation "Ms." In the matter of correspondence, this play has the further advantage of giving no clues as to the sex of the writer.

In this connection, it is interesting to note that in the Soviet Union frequently cited as a model for sexual equality by extremists in the feminine liberation movement, the Russian last name indicates the sex of an individual, thus negating this particular advantage of using initials.

I find these absurd efforts to obliterate differences on the assumption that this will produce the miracle of equality one of the more entertaining phenomena of the present age. Sincerely, T.P. RONDOMANSKI
DEAR T.P.: Very interesting. To further illustrate your point, a Russian man would be "Romanov," and a woman, "Romanova."

DEAR ABBY: Once again, a letter in your column from a man complaining because his wife doesn't give him enough "affection" (I just can't get her into the bedroom," he says.)

When a man says "affection" he means sex. Sex is great, but what most women really want is affection. The reassuring words, the warm embraces, and the loving looks.

In my case, I can't show my husband the least bit of "affection" without his wanting to head for the bedroom, the clothes closet or any place that's handy.

Agnew Talks With Thieu

SAIGON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew conferred with President Nguyen Van Thieu for more than an hour Wednesday in a meeting that U.S. sources said was intended to underscore the Nixon administration's support for South Vietnam in the current Communist offensive.

Thieu's press office said Agnew and the president "reviewed and discussed the general situation in South Vietnam." Aides refused to give any details or to say whether Agnew carried any personal messages between Thieu and President Nixon. But they said the vice president would report to Nixon immediately upon returning to Washington Friday.

Agnew flew to Saigon from Bangkok, where he arrived Tuesday after representing Nixon at the ceremony in Tokyo returning Okinawa to Japan. It was his third visit to South Vietnam, and he stayed three hours and 15 minutes, then flew back to Bangkok.

Accompanying him to the meeting with Thieu at the presidential palace were U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

The vice president was to meet this afternoon in Bangkok with Field Marshal Thanom Kittigachorn, chairman of Thailand's ruling national executive council, and tonight he was giving a dinner for his Thai hosts.

See No Economic Policy Change With Shultz In Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — John B. Connally's departure as secretary of the Treasury will leave the key economic job in the hands of George P. Shultz, the quiet but tough budget director, in a move indicating no immediate change in President Nixon's economic policies.

Connally, who in 16 turbulent months as the Treasury chief guided the nation through wage-price controls and the first dollar devaluation since 1934, announced Tuesday that he is resigning to return to private life. Nixon nominated Shultz, a former secretary of Labor, to take his place.

"There will be a changing of the guard but not a changing of the rules," Nixon told Connally, Shultz and top members of the Treasury Department staff at a meeting shortly after the Connally resignation was announced.

Shultz, former dean of the University of Chicago Graduate School of Business, brings none of the flamboyance that characterized Connally's reign as Treasury secretary, but the soft-spoken director of the Office of Management and Budget is known as a sharp administrator who is one of the Nixon's closest domestic advisers.

Shultz long expressed an aversion for wage price controls before Nixon, with inflation soaring, reversed himself last Aug. 15 and imposed a wage-price freeze. That decision marked Connally's ascendancy as the President's top economic aide, but Shultz still maintained considerable power behind the scenes.

During Connally's time as Treasury secretary, the former Texas governor—the only Democrat in Nixon's cabinet—in economic matters, a flexibility that Connally himself showed in office. Often Connally told newsmen that the President would be prepared to take any action necessary to get the economy going, reduce inflation and cut the high unemployment rate.

Shultz takes over at a time when the main policy actions have already been taken—the budget is expansive, monetary policy is easy, and wage-price controls are in place and scheduled to last at least through the end of the year.

Strike Threat Looms Again

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A statewide strike of highway construction laborers is imminent and the walkout could halt $800 million in construction work, a spokesman for the Ohio Contractors Association said Wednesday.

Charles Rinehart, labor relations director for the association, said negotiations between spokesmen for 500 highway construction firms and representatives for 9,000 laborers ended on a sour note Tuesday.

"We made our final proposal and their (laborers) committee indicated they would not recommend the proposal to the union," Rinehart said.

Rinehart said the development probably means there would be a strike which would halt road construction, dam building and construction of water and sewer lines and sewer plans around the state.

John Scales, business manager of Local 423, representing about 1,000 laborers in central Ohio, said, "They gave us a proposal and we gave them a proposal."

Strike Threat Looms Again

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A statewide strike of highway construction laborers is imminent and the walkout could halt $800 million in construction work, a spokesman for the Ohio Contractors Association said Wednesday.

Charles Rinehart, labor relations director for the association, said negotiations between spokesmen for 500 highway construction firms and representatives for 9,000 laborers ended on a sour note Tuesday.

"We made our final proposal and their (laborers) committee indicated they would not recommend the proposal to the union," Rinehart said. Rinehart said the development probably means there would be a strike which would halt road construction, dam building and construction of water and sewer lines and sewer plans around the state. John Scales, business manager of Local 423, representing about 1,000 laborers in central Ohio, said, "They gave us a proposal and we gave them a proposal."

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard Castellano is not scheduled to become a television star until the evening of June 21. But Richard, unlike most unhatched leads to future series, was a traffic stopper in his home town before he even took off for Hollywood to make the first episode.

Castellano is in "The Godfather." He plays Clemenz, the icy killer and lieutenant of Vito Corleone, head of the Mafia family.

Short, square and not exactly cast in a heroic mold, the actor recently was minding his own business—munching thoughtfully on a bread stick and waiting for this reporter—in a mid-Manhattan restaurant, and attracting more attention than the cigarette girl. Other diners were ignoring food and companions to regard him with that speculative eye that indicated they were wondering if they dared ask for his autograph.

"Yes," said Castellano, ignoring the attention but attacking another bread stick, "the movie is making waves. Actually, I really am Italian-American—Sicilian, too—but I was playing my uncle Charlie in the film. He is really Irish-Italian and he's no killer, but that was the character I had in mind."

Richard will emerge on the home screen in a very different guise when ABC's summer replacement series, "The Super," starts next month for a run that will last into early September. He plays the title role in the comedy series which replaced "The Courtship of Eddie's Father."

All this was arranged before "The Godfather" was launched like a rocket. Castellano plays the superintendent of a lower middle income apartment building—"an integrated apartment house and I'm some sort of wise man of the tenements."

While his current image is that of a very chilly murderer,

Castellano has had long experience playing assorted character roles.

He was nominated for a Tony for his performance in "Lovers and Other Strangers," and later, for an Oscar for his performance in the film version.

Handgun Control Bill Voted Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spurred by the attempted assassination of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, a Senate Judiciary subcommittee has cleared a bill to put new curbs on the sale of handguns. But what types of pistols will be covered is yet to be resolved.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chief sponsor of the bill, said the measure is aimed at halting the manufacture and sale of all concealable handguns not designed for strictly sporting purposes.

But Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska, the subcommittee's ranking Republican member, said he favors the sale of handguns for any lawful purpose, including self-defense. He said the subcommittee action was taken with the understanding that he and Bayh would try to work out exactly what kind of weapons will be covered.

Under the 1968 gun control act passed after the assassination of New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, imports of handguns are barred unless they are determined by the secretary of the Treasury to be suitable for lawful sporting purposes.

The criteria, such as barrel length, weight, caliber and safety devices, are established by Treasury regulations.

Bayh's bill would permit the secretary to retain responsibility for this criteria. But he said Hruska wants the standards spelled out by law.

FDA Eyes Food Plants

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration is increasing its inspection and enforcement efforts to halt a "decline in general sanitation practices" in food plants.

The crackdown will be aimed at manufacturers with poor cleanliness records. Firms not complying with clean-up orders could face seizure of their products and court action, both civil and criminal.

The agency's announcement came Wednesday in response to a study by the General Accounting Office which said 40 per cent of the nation's food plants were unsanitary. FDA Commissioner Charles O. Edwards speculated that sanitation practices declined while the FDA concentrated on microbiological contamination.

While such contamination must continue to receive a high priority, he said, "we cannot tolerate the decline in general sanitation practices."

Panel OKs $11.87 Billion For Vets Administration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citing an increase in the number of veterans needing medical care, the House Appropriations Committee today approved a record $11.87 billion to finance the Veterans' Administration for the fiscal year 1973.

It included that amount in a $19.71-billion appropriation bill sent to the House floor for consideration next week.

Other large allotments were $3.34 billion for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and $3.71 billion for the Department of Housing and Urban Affairs.

The allotment for veterans' programs is $941.5 million more than Congress voted for the present fiscal year and $54.58 million more than the President requested for medical programs.

The committee said it recommended the medical increase to support a higher patient load in VA hospitals—an average of not less than 85,500 patients per day instead of 83,000 proposed by the administration.

It wrote into the bill a requirement that the VA follow the higher committee figures and operate 98,500 beds to take care of peak loads. It also insisted on an average staff-patient ratio of 1.49 staffers for each patient. It called for correction of personnel programs "hindering the efforts to hire and retain sufficient high quality staff in the medical programs."

The medical care allotment was $2.6 billion.

The committee approved $6.44 billion for veterans pension and compensation payments for an estimated 4.9 million persons. Another $2.22 billion was earmarked for readjustment benefits for two million veterans next year.

Funds recommended for the Department of Housing and Urban Development included $48 million for rent supplements for privately-built low income housing, $1.8 billion for subsidies and annual contribution payments for low income public housing, $1 billion for urban renewal programs and $500 million for model cities programs.

Divorces Increase

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — Official statistics show that the number of divorces among South African whites increased from 4,328 in 1960 to 7,748 ten years later. The white population is now about 3.8 million.

WEATHER OUTLOOK — for the next month in U.S. This is the outlook for according to the National precipitation and temperature Weather Service.

Gun Control Legislation May Follow Latest Shooting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The attempted assassination of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace may force the Nixon administration to introduce gun legislation it has been sitting on for months.

A gun industry source said Tuesday he received private assurances from an administration official several weeks ago that the White House would continue to delay introducing legislation it promised to propose last fall and reportedly completed drafting in February.

But within hours of the shopping center gunshots that felled Wallace and wounded three others Monday a Senate subcommittee scheduled a closed session for this afternoon to consider a series of tough bills.

The meeting was called by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chairman of the Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency.

None of the administration officials most closely involved in gun control could be reached for comment Tuesday.

But a source on Capitol Hill said he understood the White House was considering unveiling its own delayed proposals, perhaps within a day or two.

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson was quick to call for new gun legislation after the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy in June 1968.

But the gun-control act which finally passed Congress months later was far weaker than Johnson sought, attesting to the election-year muscle of the country's 40 million gun owners, many of whom traditionally see any legislation as another small step toward confiscation.

High Nixon administration officials repeatedly have said they oppose restrictive legislation, but favor the goal of most current bills in Congress which are aimed at eliminating small cheap handguns known as "Saturday night specials."

The political neophyte said friends have contributed $150,000 to his campaign and that he's already spent $85,000 of that money. Arnold said newspaper ads announcing his candidacy cost $64,500 and a 35-city telecast on Sunday cost another $21,000.

Arnold said he hasn't spent any of his own money yet.

"We will reveal our whole list of names with the exception of a few whose careers will be in jeopardy," Arnold said, explaining that some of his contributors are men "in large corporations where the senior offices of the company are Republicans or close friends of Nixon and where I think if it's revealed that they had helped me, they might no longer be with that company."

Connally As Veep Choice Again Seen As Possibility

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, who says resigning Treasury Secretary John B. Connally can handle any public office in the land, has yet to ask Vice President Spiro T. Agnew to run a second time.

Set side by side, these facts are encouraging renewed speculation that Connally, a conservative Texas Democrat, might wind up as Nixon's choice for second place on the 1972 Republican ticket.

Agnew, however, has publicly suggested that the choice may not be entirely Nixon's.

In an April 28 question-and-answer session with students at the University of Maine, Agnew said he is not even sure he would want the No. 2 job for another four years.

Agnew also emphasized that he would step aside gracefully and campaign hard for the GOP ticket—should Nixon judge that someone else could provide greater appeal as a running mate.

In announcing Tuesday that Connally is resigning after 18 months at Treasury, Nixon told newsmen the Texan was "the architect of the new economic policy," leader of the fight against inflation, chief negotiator of international monetary accords and "a tower of strength for the President."

Looking ahead to the November balloting, it can be assumed that Nixon would welcome Connally's aid in attempting to carry Texas—a state that eluded him in 1960 and 1968. And a Connally on the ticket might swing greater weight with Texans than one standing in the wings.

After the President personally announced Connally's impending resignation, Nixon told some three dozen top Treasury officials that "no member of the Cabinet has been more closely associated with me in a personal sense."

Nixon reported he solicited Connally's advice not only on Treasury matters but on a broad range of national and international concerns and said the Texan has the qualities he seeks in a close adviser. "When the going is the toughest," said the President, "Secretary Connally is at his best."

Connally responded that he has the "profoundest admiration" for Nixon and gives complete support to his policies, foreign and domestic.

Humphrey Campaign Sags; California Most Important

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey's campaign appears to be in deepening trouble as the race for the Democratic presidential nomination moves west towards California's crucial primary June 6.

Short on funds, the Minnesota senator has cut back in some states to put virtually all of his resources into California, where he hopes to halt the momentum of Sen. George McGovern's drive.

If he can't, the nomination may be McGovern's.

Humphrey and McGovern meet in a head-to-head battle in the California primary, where Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama is not on the ballot. The winner of the California primary takes away 271 national convention delegate votes.

The results in Tuesday's two primaries illustrate Humphrey's increasing problems.

In Michigan, a state he carried in the 1968 presidential election, Humphrey finished a poor third, more than 100,000 votes behind McGovern, of South Dakota. He did especially poorly in blue collar and suburban areas.

In Maryland, only an overwhelming majority in Baltimore's predominantly black 7th Congressional District enabled Humphrey to finish ahead of McGovern for second place behind Wallace.

The results were the latest in a series of weaker-than-expected performances by Humphrey in the industrial heartland that was the center of his 1968 strength and promised to be so again this year.

In Pennsylvania, though the clear winner of the preference vote, Humphrey won 55 delegates to a strong showing of 39 for McGovern. In Ohio, a bare 20,000-vote statewide majority saved Humphrey from a disaster by giving him 38 at-large delegates for a total of 74, to McGovern's 66.

Only a strong showing in a black congressional district in Cleveland saved Ohio for the Minnesota senator. Similarly, black votes were responsible for his second-place showing in Florida and for the one congressional district he won in Wisconsin.

In Michigan, even his black support began to diminish. McGovern increased his share of the black vote, and New York Rep. Shirley Chisholm won some of it, too.

Probe Reports Bremer Stalked Gov. Wallace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur H. Bremer, the man accused of gunning down George C. Wallace, may have stalked the Alabama governor through three states before the shooting at a suburban campaign rally Monday.

And although Wallace security agents reportedly had become suspicious of the 21-year-old Milwaukee man because he kept showing up at Wallace rallies, they never took direct action against him.

The possibility that Bremer stalked Wallace has prompted federal agents to attempt to reconstruct his movements over the past several weeks to determine where he went, whom he saw and what his intentions were.

While the FBI will say officially only that its agents are investigating Bremer's background, sources close to the investigation say "There is not any question" that the stalking theory is the prime focus of the federal probe.

Gun Control Legislation May Follow Latest Shooting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The attempted assassination of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace may force the Nixon administration to introduce gun legislation it has been sitting on for months.

A gun industry source said Tuesday he received private assurances from an administration official several weeks ago that the White House would continue to delay introducing legislation it promised to propose last fall and reportedly completed drafting in February.

Newest Demo Candidate Opens Drive

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Stanley Norman Arnold says he expects to win the Democratic party's vice presidential nod by speaking out on major issues in national appearances the next few weeks.

The 56-year-old New York businessman held a news conference here to begin his whirlwind nine-week campaign. He said he was not ready to endorse any presidential candidate yet even though he worked in the 1968 presidential campaign of U.S. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn.

Arnold, a Cleveland native who worked 17 years in his family's Pick-N-Pay grocery chain here, said he would run on a ticket with anybody who agrees with his program of putting an end to the Vietnam war, inflation, unemployment, poverty and urban decay.

The political neophyte said friends have contributed $150,000 to his campaign and that he's already spent $85,000 of that money. Arnold said newspaper ads announcing his candidacy cost $64,500 and a 35-city telecast on Sunday cost another $21,000.

Arnold said he hasn't spent any of his own money yet. "We will reveal our whole list of names with the exception of a few whose careers will be in jeopardy," Arnold said, explaining that some of his contributors are men "in large corporations where the senior offices of the company are Republicans or close friends of Nixon and where I think if it's revealed that they had helped me, they might no longer be with that company."

Guard Shot, Paintings Are Stolen

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Two masked men shot a guard and walked out of the Worcester Art Museum with four paintings worth more than $1 million.

Museum Director Richard S. Teitz identified the works taken Wednesday as "The Brooding Woman" and "Head of a Woman" by Paul Gauguin; "Mother and Child" by Pablo Picasso and Rembrandt's "St. Bartholomew," painted in 1632.

Teitz said all were owned by the museum and the Rembrandt was the most valuable of the four.

"They knew what they were doing and what they were taking," Teitz said of the thieves. Teitz said he doubted if they would be able to sell the paintings because the works are well known in the art world.

The thieves, wearing ski masks, entered the museum just before closing, took the four paintings in their frames from walls in two rooms, then fled out the front door and escaped in a car.

One thief who was carrying a handgun shot guard Philip J. Evans, 57, in the side as he went through the door. Evans was taken to Memorial Hospital where doctors later described his condition as fair to good and said he would recover.

Agnew Goes To Thailand

BANGKOK (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew left Thailand for the United States today after a two-day visit and a side trip to South Vietnam. He said Saigon's prospects for withstanding the Communist offensive "look good."

Agnew said his hour's meeting with President Nguyen Van Thieu in Saigon Wednesday was "fruitful," and he is optimistic about South Vietnam's military strength.

"Although the situation is serious, the South Vietnamese military forces are more than holding their own," Agnew said. "I am confident that President Thieu and his military leaders will be able to withstand the present military pressures."

Agnew also said that for Thailand "real progress is impossible" without economic and military assistance from the United States, and that Washington will remain true to its commitments to Thailand.

Agnew met Tuesday and Wednesday with Field Marshal Thanom Kittikachorn, chairman of the ruling National Executive Council, and other leaders. They discussed the new U.S. military buildup in Thailand and the war in Vietnam.

Fund Drive Slated By Danny Thomas

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Entertainer Danny Thomas, founder of St. Jude's Children Research Hospital, has announced an $8.7 million state-wide fund-raising drive to finance expansion of the facility. Thomas made the announcement to newsmen Tuesday. He was joined by Mrs. Winfield Dunn, wife of the Tennessee governor, and Matthew Lynch, president of the State Labor Council, which is sponsoring the drive.

Losses Mount In Vietnam War Action

SAIGON (AP) — Both South Vietnamese and enemy casualties increased last week, according to the weekly summaries issued today, while the number of Americans killed or wounded in combat was less than the week before. But there were increases in U.S. casualties from nonhostile causes, apparently due to an air crash.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 750 government troops were killed last week, 2,319 were wounded and 344 were missing. For the previous week those totals were 603 killed, 2,028 wounded and 737 missing.

The South Vietnamese command listed 3,613 enemy killed last week, sharp increase from 2,349 the week before. It said 56 enemy were captured.

The U.S. Command said 13 Americans were killed in action last week, six less than the week before. Twenty-six Americans were wounded in combat, headquarters said, two less than a week earlier.

However, the casualty summary reported 18 American deaths last week from nonhostile causes, an increase of 12 over the previous week, and 18 missing from nonhostile causes. Although the command would not say, 32 of them were believed lost in the crash May 10 of a big U.S. Army helicopter 20 miles north of Saigon.

In such cases, men whose bodies are not recovered are usually listed as missing. The allied commands now have reported these total casualties for the war:

American—45,747 killed in action, 303,071 wounded, 10,170 dead from nonhostile causes, 1,583 missing or captured.

South Vietnamese—142,727 killed in action, 363,367 wounded.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—831,663 killed.

Mayor's Daughter Faces Charges

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The daughter of former Tucson Mayor James Corbett Jr. has been returned to Arizona from Ohio to face charges of forgery and altering a money order in four cities.

Phoenix Police Detective Tom McAfee said Wednesday Paula Jo Corbett, 18, was returned from Washington Court-house, Ohio, where she was serving a 1-to-20-year sentence on similar forgery charges.

McAfee said Miss Corbett is accused of buying a money order at a Phoenix store for $1, and then changing the sum to $95 before cashing it. He said she also is wanted in Tucson, Flagstaff and Prescott on similar charges.

California Campaign Gains Steam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Hubert Humphrey and George McGovern today planned to concentrate their campaigns on delegate-rich California while the forces of Gov. George C. Wallace worked to piece together a stand-in campaign for their candidate.

McGovern resumes his campaign today in Los Angeles, then moves to Oregon.

Humphrey reopened his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination Wednesday with appearances in Rhode Island and New Jersey. Both men had suspended their efforts after Wallace was shot five times by an assailant in a Maryland shopping center Monday.

Reports from Wallace's bedside in Holy Cross Hospital in a suburb of Washington found him alert and politically enthusiastic, but a report from physicians Wednesday lent special urgency to the search for stand-ins.

Alabama neurosurgeon Dr. James Galbraith, called in to attend Wallace, told newsmen the damage done by a bullet lodged the governor's spine gave Wallace less than a 50-50 chance to walk again.

In any event, Galbraith said, any campaign appearances by the Alabama governor would be ruled out until shortly before the July 10 Democratic National Convention, if then.

Among the stand-ins to keep up the momentum of primary victories in Michigan and Maryland will be Wallace's 33-year-old wife Cornelia, said Charles Snider, national campaign director.

Revenue Agent Faces Shotgun

WEST UNION, Ohio (AP)—An Internal Revenue Service employee says an Adams County woman pulled a shotgun on him when he asked her questions about delinquent incomes taxes.

Authorities disclosed Wednesday that Ruby Kitchen has been charged with threatening to shoot an IRS employee, James Stewart.

The charge carries a maximum penalty of three years in jail and a $5,000 fine.

Neither the woman nor IRS officials could be reached for comment.

Former governor Hayden Burns of Florida would also appear on the California ballot where the winner will take all the state's 271 delegates to the convention.

At Warwick, R. I., the Minnesota senator focused on chief opponent McGovern, but did not name his South Dakota Senate colleague. Humphrey declared his opposition to legalization of marijuana, amnesty for "draft evaders" and "indiscriminate abortion on demand." He made it clear that he thought McGovern had taken extreme view on these issues.

British Towns Have Some Strange Names

LONDON (AP) — If you ever happen to hit a particular crossroads in Kent, you will see a signpost saying Ham is that way and Sandwich the other.

British place names makes a fascinating topic for the connoisseur. There are such communities as Babel, Yelling, Great Snoring and Little Snoring, Wallop, Wigwig and Old Sock.

There also are 10 Californias, an America, and a New York. This group evidently was imported by former immigrants to North America returning home.

Most of the odd-sounding names have origins going back to the days when the Saxons or the Romans were in Britain. Some derive from the Norman invasion of 1066 when William the Conqueror handed out large parcels of land to his main henchmen. Down through the centuries, the old names have become twisted.

But some of the old ones have stuck. Ham, for instance, is Old English for an estate or homestead. Sandwich, also Old English, means a market town on sandy soil.

But then there are broad corruptions. The two Snorings in Norfolk are believed to be an offbeat hand-me-down from the Old English for Snear's people, whoever Snear was.

Shropshire has Over Wallop, Middle Wallop and Nether Wallop. They are believed by experts to come from the medieval well hop, meaning valley of the stream.

Dorset has the Piddle River, sometimes called the Puddle, which apparently has a Germanic derivation from pedellow land.

Affpiddle seems to have got the first part of its name about the year 987 from a Saxon proprietor named Aeffa.

Piddletrenthide in the same area is translated by the Oxford Dictionary of Place Names as "Piddle of 30 hides" but there is no clue as to what this means.

Babel in Scotland's Dumfriesshire has no known source but another noisy-sounding place — Yelling in Huntingdonshire — comes from the Old English giellan, meaning to scream. But how this got attached to the place is lost in the mists of time.

Some names may have been applied with tongue in cheek.

There are Sewer's End in Essex, and Boozie and Drinker's End in Yorkshire. Devon has Labor-in-Vain and Beer County Durham has Never Seen, Seldom Seen, Pity Me, Black Bay, Cow Tail and Wide Open.

Women

record. That means none of your relatives can have been arrested.

"But I'd be happy to send you an application if you're still interested."

FBI employees stress that women agents will be granted no special privileges. At an intensive 14-week training course, they must qualify with revolver, shotgun and rifle, meet stiff pull up, sit-up and push-up requirements and run two miles in 17 minutes.

2 Top Gilligan Aides Quit After Shakeup Of Cabinet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two top aides of Gov. John J. Gilligan shunted aside in a recent office shakeup, resigned Wednesday.

John D. McDonald, who had been Gilligan's assistant for legislative affairs, announced his own resignation. The resignation of James M.

Friedman, the governor's executive counsel, was announced by Gilligan.

The governor brought former Ohio Welfare Director into his office as chief of staff two weeks ago.

He gave McDonald and Friedman 10 days to accept reassignment to unspecified jobs or quit.

Gilligan generously praised both men. He said he had asked Friedman to remain on the state Democratic executive committee and called him a "young man of immense talents, dedication and energy."

Gilligan credited McDonald with helping to put through the Republican-dominated legislature landmark measures such as the income tax and strip mine law.

abuse, he said. In addition to volunteers, Nagel and others addressing the meeting stressed that the greatest need was funds.

No exact cost figures were proposed, but Nagel estimated that "several million dollars" would be required to prepare adequately for all contingencies at the conventions.

Convention Demonstrators Problem For Miami Beach

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A two-month encampment of convention demonstrators this summer may overwhelm health care facilities on Miami Beach with a mind-boggling collection of stomach aches, sunburns and bad drug trips, doctors say.

"Had we had only one convention, our problem would have been confined to a two-week period. But when you bring in a second convention six weeks later, your problem is extended over two months and increased at least 10 times," said Dr. Eugene Nagel of the University of Miami Medical School. "It boggles the mind."

Nagel told local government officials Wednesday he believes the influx of young people will require training of 1,000 more emergency volunteer medics.

The Health Planning Council of South Florida called the meeting to start planning ways to meet the medical demands of the Democratic National Convention July 10-13 and the Republican National Convention Aug. 21-24.

There have been varied estimates on the number of demonstrators the two conventions will attract.

"I think a reasonable guess is between 50,000 and 75,000," Nagel said.

Nagel proposed that first aid tents be pitched "wherever we have a large concentration of the demonstrators." Each team should have a doctor, several volunteer medics and several persons experienced with drug

In his resignation letter to the governor, McDonald, said, "I am sure that you will understand why I have no desire to continue in some unspecified position in which I would be less qualified to serve you and the people of Ohio."

McDonald fell victim of pressure from Democratic legislators and of the unhappy early endorsement by Gilligan of U.S. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine as the party nominee for president.

British Towns Have Some Strange Names

LONDON (AP) — If you ever happen to hit a particular crossroads in Kent, you will see a signpost saying Ham is that way and Sandwich the other.

British place names makes a fascinating topic for the connoisseur. There are such communities as Babel, Yelling, Great Snoring and Little Snoring, Wallop, Wigwig and Old Sock.

There also are 10 Californias, an America, and a New York. This group evidently was imported by former immigrants to North America returning home. Most of the odd-sounding names have origins going back to the days when the Saxons or the Romans were in Britain. Some derive from the Norman invasion of 1066 when William the Conqueror handed out large parcels of land to his main henchmen. Down through the centuries, the old names have become twisted.

But some of the old ones have stuck. Ham, for instance, is Old English for an estate or homestead. Sandwich, also Old English, means a market town on sandy soil.

But then there are broad corruptions. The two Snorings in Norfolk are believed to be an offbeat hand-me-down from the Old English for Snear's people, whoever Snear was.

Shropshire has Over Wallop, Middle Wallop and Nether Wallop. They are believed by experts to come from the medieval well hop, meaning valley of the stream.

Dorset has the Piddle River, sometimes called the Puddle, which apparently has a Germanic derivation from peddelland.

Affpuddle seems to have got the first part of its name about the year 987 from a Saxon proprietor named Aeffa.

Piddletrenthide in the same area is translated by the Oxford Dictionary of Place Names as "Piddle of 30 hides" but there is no clue as to what this means.

Babel in Scotland's Dumfriesshire has no known source but another noisy-sounding place — Yelling in Huntingdonshire — comes from the Old English giellan, meaning to scream. But how this got attached to the place is lost in the mists of time.

Some names may have been applied with tongue in cheek.

There are Sewer's End in Essex, and Boze and Drinker's End in Yorkshire. Devon has Labor-in-Vain and Beer County Durham has Never Seen, Seldom Seen, Pity Me, Black Bay, Cow Tail and Wide Open.

Westfall Rally Beats Pioneers

Westfall rallied for seven runs in the top of the seventh inning to take an all important Scioto Valley Conference game from Zane Trace, 10-4, Wednesday on the Pioneers' diamond. The win gives the Mustangs a 6-1 mark in league play with game still remaining with Unioto. They are trying to schedule this clash for next week. A win for the Mustangs would make them co-champions with Logan Elm who has finished league play with a 7-1 mark. Ted Musselman hurled the win and set a Westfall strikeout mark by fanning 18 Pioneers. He gave up six hits and walked six in the contest. MIKE Miller went all the way for Zane Trace. He allowed 13 hits, walked six and struckout one. Trailing 4-3 going into the top of the seventh, Westfall came up with seven big runs capped by a grand slam homer by Scott Riddle. Westfall tallied one run in the first, added two in the third and finished it off with the big seventh inning. Trace scored a single run in the bottom of the fourth and added three more in the sixth to take a 4-3 lead. Larry Harris blasted a two-run homer in the third and added two singles to pace the Mustangs attack. Mike Peterson, Larry Adams and Dave Shannon each had a pair of

Top Trotters And Pacers Set For Scioto Downs Opening

Scioto Downs is kicking off the 1972 season Friday night, just like it ended the season last year, with talent packed fields of trotters and pacers. The inaugural feature event Friday night is the $6,000 Invitational Trot that attracted six entrants including the 1972 Season Champion aged trotting gelding, Dearborn Star. Owned by Ralph Main of Athens, Michigan, Dearborn Star smashed the season mark last week at Wolverine Raceway in Detroit with a victory in 1:59 5/5. Challenging the season champ will be two outstanding trotters who moved in from Lexington, Kentucky this week, Gay Blossom with a mark of 2:00 from the famed Castleton Farm of Lexington, and Flower Child, the 2:00 4-5 trotter from the Samuel Huttenbauer stable of Cincinnati. Rounding out the Friday feature field are Painted Doll (2:01 4-5), Musical Comedy (2:02), and Keystone Mite who won in 2:02 last week at Liberty Bell Park in Philadelphia. Saturday night, the fast class pacers take over in the featured $6,000 Invitational Pace. Thimble, the 4-year-old pacing mare from Jackson, Ohio is the slight early line choice. Owned by the Appalachian Farm, and driven by Dr. Fred Hess, Thimble with a lifetime record of 2:00, is fresh from her upset victory in the $25,000 Adios Festival Pace at Yonkers Raceway. Second choice on the early line goes to the veteran Wingait Champion from the Bob Sebrook stable. This son of Champion Volo paced Scioto in 1:59 2-5, and last week toured Maywood Park's half mile oval in 2:01. A new face at Scioto Downs in the invitational pace this year is the brilliant Trenchcoat, a blazing bay son of Henry T. Adios, owned by the Thomas Racing stable of Cleveland. Trained and driven by Hugh Stimer, Trenchcoat took his record of 1:59 3-5 at Hollywood Park last year, and was driven to victory last week at Yonkers Raceway by Del Insko in 2:03 1-5. The Scioto Stable of Columbus will send Scioto Star postward in quest of his first victory of the year. Trained and driven by Dick Richardson, Jr., Scioto Star owns a lifetime mark of 2:00 1-5. Dick Williams, the 1971 MARA at Scioto driving champion will take Barber Hanover out Saturday night and put his record of 2:00 on the line. Knight Ballard, owned by Ellen Osborn of Columbus will try to make it three in a row for driver Phil Siebold. This handsome sidwheeler is fresh from two quick victories at Lebanon Raceway, the fastest in 2:03 2-5.

After playing a nip and tuck affair for five innings the Circleville Tigers exploded for eight runs in the final two frames to down Heath, 11-3, and win the Central District Class AA Sectional finals Wednesday at Newark. The win sends the Tigers against DeSales (17-6) 2 p.m. Friday in the Central District finals on diamond No. 2 at Edwards Field in Newark. The winners move on to Springfield to meet the Cincinnati District winner 4 p.m. on May 26. It was the five-hit pitching performance of big Don Valentine coupled with a 13-hit attack by the Tigers that put the game in the win column. Valentine gave up one earned run, walked five and struckout seven. Evans and Mathews handled the mound duties for Heath. They allowed three earned runs, six walks and fanned four. Six errors hurt Heath's chances in the contest. Paul England and Valentine both rapped a double and single to pace the Tigers attack. Rock Davis, Tom Taylor and Terry Morrison had two singles apiece while Mike Speakman, Dave Truex and Jeff Harr each had a one-bagger for the winners. A base on balls, sacrifice bunt and a single gave Heath a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the second.

But the Tigers battled back with two tallies in the top of the third for a 2-1 lead. Valentine singled with one out, Speakman followed with a one-bagger, Truex walked to load the bases and Valentine and Speakman rounded home when England's ground ball was mis-played by the Heath shortstop. Neither team scored in the fourth frame but the Red and Black picked up a lone marker in the top of the fifth to grab a 3-1 advantage. Speakman walked, stole second and went to third on an error on the play. Taylor lofted a long fly ball to centerfield to send Speakman scampering across the plate after the catch. Circleville erupted for five big runs in the top of the sixth to send Heath's hopes down the drain. A single by Harr, double by Valentine, a walk to Speakman, consecutive singles by Taylor, Truex and England, a walk to Sprout, a one-bagger by Morrison and two Heath errors did the damage in the inning. Speakman drew another free pass in the seventh, Dan DeLong was safe on an error, England doubled and Davis singled to give the Tigers three more runs in the inning. Two singles, a base on balls and a sacrifice fly gave Heath two runs in the bottom of the seventh. Circleville is now 11-3 and is scheduled at Bishop Ready 5 p.m. today.

Pirates Club St. Louis, Win 12-0

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
"Things are starting to look better." Pittsburgh Manager Bill Virdon understated. They couldn't have looked much better for Steve Blass and the Pirates Wednesday night. They clubbed four St. Louis pitchers for 15 hits en route to a 12-0 rout that sent the reeling Cardinals down to their seventh straight defeat. "If we hadn't been scoring so many runs, I'd have probably gone to the showers in the third inning," said Blass. The Pittsburgh right-hander went the distance for his fourth victory in five decisions despite allowing 11 hits. In other National League action, the New York Mets bombed Montreal 12-2, the Chicago Cubs nipped Philadelphia 3-2, Cincinnati edged San Francisco 2-1, Houston routed Atlanta 9-0 and San Diego blanked Los Angeles 2-0. "When you have the kind of hitters we do," Blass observed, "you just know they're going to score some runs for you." The Pirates, who stumbled through an April slump, losing eight of 13 games, have now righted themselves to their world championship form, winning eight of the last 10. Home runs by Vic Davalillo and Manny Sanguillen led Pittsburgh's highest scoring output of the season and Jackie Hernandez drove in three runs and Roberto Clemente two in the barrage. Rookie John Milner, filling in for injured left fielder Cleon Jones, bashed a two-run double and three-run homer to pace New York's 17-hit explosion that made matters easy for Gary Gentry, who allowed just four Montreal safeties. Jose Cardenal's tie-breaking single in the top of the ninth led the Cubs over Philadelphia. Billy Williams had doubled to start the rally off Steve Carlton but, after moving to third on Jim Hickman's single, he was thrown out at the plate on Carmen Fanzone's grounder before Cardenal came through. The Giants lost their sixth in a row and Juan Marichal lost his seventh straight game thanks to Joe Morgan's two-run homer for the Reds. "This is the best I've thrown since early last year," the Astros' Larry Dierker said after shutting out Atlanta on four hits. Houston managed two runs in

After playing a nip and tuck affair for five innings the Circleville Tigers exploded for eight runs in the final two frames to down Heath, 11-3, and win the Central District Class AA Sectional finals Wednesday at Newark.

The win sends the Tigers against DeSales (17-6) 2 p.m. Friday in the Central District finals on diamond No. 2 at Edwards Field in Newark. The winners move on to Springfield to meet the Cincinnati District winner 4 p.m. on May 26.

It was the five-hit pitching performance of big Don Valentine coupled with a 13-hit attack by the Tigers that put the game in the win column.

Valentine gave up one earned run, walked five and struckout seven.

Evans and Mathews handled the mound duties for Heath. They allowed three earned runs, six walks and fanned four. Six

But the Tigers battled back with two tallies in the top of the third for a 2-1 lead. Valentine singled with one out, Speakman followed with a one-bagger, Truex walked to load the bases and Valentine and Speakman raced home when England's ground ball was mis-played by the Heath shortstop.

Neither team scored in the fourth frame but the Red and Black picked up a lone marker in the top of the fifth to grab a 3-1 advantage. Speakman walked, stole second and went to third on an error on the play. Taylor lofted a long fly ball to centerfield to send Speakman scampering across the plate after the catch.

Circleville erupted for five big runs in the top of the sixth to send Heath's hopes down the drain.

A single by Harr, double by Valentine, a walk to Speakman, consecutive singles by Taylor, Truex and England, a walk to Sprout, a one-bagger by Morrison and two Heath errors did the damage in the inning.

Speakman drew another free pass in the seventh, Dan DeLong was safe on an error, England doubled and Davis singled to give the Tigers three more runs in the inning.

Two singles, a base on balls and a sacrifice fly gave Heath two runs in the bottom of the seventh.

Circleville is now 11-3 and is scheduled at Bishop Ready 5 p.m. today.

Pirates Club St. Louis, Win 12-0

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
"Things are starting to look better," Pittsburgh Manager Bill Virdon understated.

They couldn't have looked much better for Steve Blass and the Pirates Wednesday night. They clubbed four St. Louis pitchers for 15 hits en route to a 12-0 rout that sent the reeling Cardinals down to their seventh straight defeat.

"If we hadn't been scoring so many runs, I'd have probably gone to the showers in the third inning," said Blass. The Pittsburgh right-hander went the distance for his fourth victory in five decisions despite allowing 11 hits.

In other National League action, the New York Mets bombed Montreal 12-2, the Chicago Cubs nipped Philadelphia 3-2, Cincinnati edged San Francisco 2-1, Houston routed Atlanta 9-0 and San Diego blanked Los Angeles 2-0.

"When you have the kind of hitters we do," Blass observed, "you just know they're going to score some runs for you."

The Pirates, who stumbled through an April slump, losing eight of 13 games, have now righted themselves to their world championship form, winning eight of the last 10.

Home runs by Vic Davalillo and Manny Sanguillen led Pittsburgh's highest scoring output of the season and Jackie Hernandez drove in three runs and Roberto Clemente two in the barrage.

Rookie John Milner, filling in for injured left fielder Cleon Jones, bashed a two-run double and three-run homer to pace New York's 17-hit explosion that made matters easy for Gary Gentry, who allowed just four Montreal safeties.

Gold Flake Winner At River Downs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Stepping the six furlongs in 1:12, Gold Flake scored a half-length victory in the featured $5,000 ninth race at River Downs Wednesday.

Gold Flake paid $9.40, $4.80 and $3.20. The winner moved up the inside to charge into the lead in the stretch.

Uncle Zip placed for $3.40 and $3 and showing was Duro T. for $4.

A $102 daily double was returned on the combination of Pete's Lady and Beau Devil. Pete's Lady paid $31.50 to win in the first race.

It also gave the Mets their sixth straight victory and ninth in the last 10 games, enabling them to widen their East Division lead over Philadelphia to five games. The Mets scored three runs in the first inning, then erupted for six more in the third.

Jose Cardenal's tie-breaking single in the top of the ninth led the Cubs over Philadelphia. Billy Williams had doubled to start the rally off Steve Carlton but, after moving to third on Jim Hickman's single, he was thrown out at the plate on Carmen Fanzone's grounder before Cardenal came through.

The Giants lost their sixth in a row and Juan Marichal lost his seventh straight game thanks to Joe Morgan's two-run homer for the Reds.

"This is the best I've thrown since early last year," the Astros' Larry Dierker said after shutting out Atlanta on four hits.

Houston managed two runs in the first six innings, then piled on seven more in the final two, with three of them coming on Doug Rader's home run.

The Dodgers, slipping nine percentage points back of the first-place Astros in the West, finally lost a game at San Diego after winning 12 in a row there. Fred Norman's six-hitter also snapped the Dodgers' five-game winning skein.

Top Trotters And Pacers Set For Scioto Downs Opening

Scioto Downs is kicking off the 1972 season Friday night, just like it ended the season last year, with talent packed fields of trotters and pacers.

The inaugural feature event Friday night is the $6,000 Invitational Trot that attracted six entrants including the 1972 season Champion aged trotting gelding, Dearborn Star. Owned by Ralph Main of Athens, Michigan, Dearborn Star smashed the season mark last week at Wolverine Raceway in Detroit with a victory in 1:59 5/5.

Challenging the season champ will be two outstanding trotters who moved in from Lexington, Kentucky this week, Gay Blossom with a mark of 2:00 from the famed Castleton Farm of Lexington, and Flower Child, the 2:00 4/5 trotter from the Samuel Huttenbauer stable of Cincinnati. Rounding out the Friday feature field are Painted Doll (2:01 4/5), Musical Comedy (2:02), and Keystone Mite who won in 2:02 last week at Liberty Bell Park in Philadelphia.

Saturday night, the fast class pacers take over in the featured $6,000 Invitational Pace. Thimble, the 4-year-old pacing mare from Jackson, Ohio is the slight early line choice. Owned by the Appalachian Farm, and driven by Dr. Fred Hess, Thimble with a lifetime record of 2:00, is fresh from her upset victory in the $25,000 Adios Festival Pace at Yonkers Raceway.

Second choice on the early line goes to the veteran Wingait Champion from the Bob Sebrook stable. This son of Champion Volo paced Scioto in 1:59 2/5, and last week toured Maywood Park's half mile oval in 2:01.

A new face at Scioto Downs in the invitational pace this year is the brilliant Trenchcoat, a blazing bay son of Henry T. Adios, owned by the Thomas Racing stable of Cleveland. Trained and driven by Hugh Stimer, Trenchcoat took his record of 1:59 3/5 at Hollywood Park last year, and was driven to victory last week at Yonkers Raceway by Del Insko in 2:03 1/5.

The Scioto Stable of Columbus will send Scioto Star postward in quest of his first victory of the year. Trained and driven by Dick Richardson, Jr., Scioto Star owns a lifetime mark of 2:00 1/5.

Dick Williams, the 1971 MARA at Scioto driving champion will take Barber Hanover out Saturday night and put his record of 2:00 on the line.

Knight Ballad, owned by Ellen Osborn of Columbus will try to make it three in a row for driver Phil Siebold. This handsome sidewheeler is fresh from two quick victories at Lebanon Raceway, the fastest in 2:03 2/5.

Cincinnati Reds
Edge Frustrated
S.F. Giants, 2-1

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I've never seen a run of luck like this in my life," groaned San Francisco Giants' manager Charlie Fox. Ace right hander Juan Marichal might agree. Marichal, who mirrors the Giants' frustration, reduced his earned run average to 2.85 with a four-hitter Wednesday, yet dropped his seventh straight game as the Cincinnati Reds took a 2-1 decision.

A small turnout of 2,670 watched the Giants lose their sixth in a row—five of them by one run and the other a 2-0 defeat—to offer a stark contrast to the 1971 National League pennant campaign.

After 31 games one year ago, the Giants were 22-9 and ahead of the Western Division by six games. Today, they were a struggling 9-22 entering the finale of a four-game series with the Reds.

"This losing streak has been especially tough to take," said the disgruntled Fox. "It really is tough because the pitching has been good and we've been in every game."

"But it seems that nobody can get a hit when it counts—and when we do get one, the guy gets picked off. Nothing's working."

A two-run homer by former Oakland prep star Joe Morgan, following a walk to Pete Rose in the third inning, gave left hander Ross Grimsley, 2-9, all the support he needed as the Reds rolled to their seventh straight victory.

Grimsley lost a shut-out when Jim Hart belted a homer in the fifth. He was lifted after Al Gallagher batted for Marichal, 1-7, in the ninth and opened the inning with a single.

Jim Rosario ran for Gallagher and Clay Carroll replaced Grimsley. Rosario promptly was picked off first on a throw from catcher John Bench to second baseman Morgan and Carroll finished out the inning for his fifth save.

Asked about the crucial pick-off play, Morgan said: "Bench likes to throw and I like to run, so we've worked on it quite a bit. I'm glad it happened when it meant something. The pickoff really took a load off."

"The homer came on a fast ball," said Morgan of his fifth blast of the season. "I was kind of fighting the pitch off. It wasn't exactly what you'd call a home run swing."

Braves Blank
Vikings, 5-0

Logan Elm shut out Teays Valley 5-0 Wednesday on the Viking field behind the 2-hit pitching of senior Gary Wertman.

It was the last start for Wertman and one of his finer efforts according to LE Coach Vic Pontius. Wertman was touched for two singles, both by Joe Merritt, fanned nine and walked one.

Jerry Sabine went all the way for Teays Valley, whiffing six, walking five and allowing seven hits.

A pair of 2-run homers by the Braves provided most of the scoring punch.

In the third inning after Mike Holbrook led off with a double and scored from second on a throwing error that put Mark Justus on base, Rick Blankenship uncorked a 4-bagger to left. That gave the Braves three runs in the inning.

The other two runs came in the top of the sixth when Wertie Teets walked and Greg Justus smashed a hit into the bleachers in right center.

Other hits by Logan Elm players were two singles by Gary Francis, and one single each by Mark Justus and Ken Kurtz.

Today Logan Elm hosts Canal Winchester in the final game of the season. The Braves are currently 16-2, having lost only to Westfall in Scioto Valley Conference game and to Pickerington in the sectional tournament finals.

Lolich And Tigers Defeat Baltimore, 6-1

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The coast is clear. All the roadblocks have been removed. Denny McLain is on his way to the minors. Vida Blue is still getting his arm out of hibernation. It's your turn to step front and center, Mickey Lolich.

Detroit's quality lefthander, who always seems to be overshadowed by somebody else, knows an opportunity when he sees one. And he isn't passing up his chance at the American League's pitching spotlight. Lolich won his sixth straight game Wednesday night and became the first seven-game winner in the majors with a 6-1 decision over Baltimore. He fired a four-hitter and struck out six, increasing his American League lead in that department to 53.

Elsewhere Wednesday, Cleveland edged New York 2-1, Milwaukee trimmed Boston 4-1, Minnesota took Chicago 8-1, Oakland blanked California 4-0 and Texas outlasted Kansas City 4-3 in 18 innings.

Catcher Tom Haller drove in four runs for the Tigers, three of them on an eighth inning homer. That was plenty for Lolich, who now has seven complete games.

"No matter what I do," said Lolich, "people will remember what Vida Blue did last year.

Can't you ever give me credit? What do I have to do?" Well, he could play the organ like McLain, or hold out all spring like Blue.

Lolich was always Detroit's No. 2 pitcher behind McLain when Denny was with the Tigers. McLain won 31 games in 1968 to 17 for Lolich but it was the chubby lefty who was the World Series hero with three victories including the seventh game against Bob Gibson.

Now McLain's gone and Blue still hasn't thrown a ball in anger. Lolich is 7-1 and wondering who'll come along to shove him into the shadows this time.

George Scott hammered a two-run homer and Jim Lonborg earned his first victory, helping Milwaukee beat the Boston Red Sox.

Scott and Lonborg both came to the Brewers from Boston in the giant 10-man trade engineered by the two clubs during the 1971 World Series.

Cleveland nipped the Yankees when Tom McCraw opened the bottom of the ninth inning with a triple and then stroled home following three walks, the first two intentional.

Bobby Murcer homered for New York.

Danny Thompson ripped a bases-loaded triple and Harmon Killebrew tagged a two-run homer, moving Minnesota past Chicago. The defeat ended a six-game winning streak for the White Sox.

The homer was the 519th of Killebrew's career, leaving him two short of Ted Williams' total.

Ken Holtzman scattered eight hits and pitched Oakland past California. Holtzman also drove in two runs with a single. Joe Rudi homered for the A's.

It was the third straight loss for Rudy May, who has not had a run scored for him this season.

The Texas-Kansas City marathon ended in a bizarre manner with catcher's interference and then a two-base throwing error by reliever Ted Abernathy leading to the Rangers' winning run.

Joe Lovitto reached base on catcher Dennis Paepke's interference and then raced to third when Abernathy threw away Jim Panther's attempted sacrifice. Toby Harrah's grounder got the winning run home.

Riva Ridge,
Upper Case
Set To Run

BALTIMORE (AP) — Lucien Laurin, trainer of Kentucky Derby Winner Riva Ridge and a second Meadow Stable colt, Upper Case, says he thinks they'll come away from Saturday's Preakness with first and second money.

That could total a little more than $167,000.

Although Laurin conceded Wednesday that he was worried about Paul Mellon's Key to Mint, which could prove the spoiler to hopes of capturing the top two spots in the $150,000 added stakes, his talk was filled with jovial confidence.

"Key to The Mint won't be second. We're going to be 1-2. What do you think of that?" he said Wednesday after putting the two Meadow Stable colts through gallops at Pimlico here.

The way Laurin sees it, Riva Ridge will be able to best Key to Mint as he did three times last year and move a step closer to capturing all three of the Triple Crown of Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes. Upper Case is good enough to capture the runnerup spot but not to beat stablemate Riva Ridge, Laurin contends.

The winner of Saturday's race collects $137,700, the runnerup, $30,000.

Grimsley lost a shut-out when Jim Hart belted a homer in the fifth. He was lifted after Al Gallagher batted for Marichal, 1-7, in the ninth and opened the inning with a single.

Jim Rosario ran for Gallagher and Clay Carroll replaced Grimsley. Rosario promptly was picked off first on a throw from catcher John Bench to second baseman Morgan and Carroll finished out the inning for his fifth save.

Asked about the crucial pick-off play, Morgan said: "Bench likes to throw and I like to run, so we've worked on it quite a bit. I'm glad it happened when it meant something. The pickoff really took a load off."

"The homer came on a fast ball," said Morgan of his fifth blast of the season. "I was kind of fighting the pitch off. It wasn't exactly what you'd call a home run swing."

Braves Blank Vikings, 5-0

Logan Elm shut out Teays Valley 5-0 Wednesday on the Viking field behind the 2-hit pitching of senior Gary Wertman.

It was the last start for Wertman and one of his finer efforts according to LE Coach Vic Pontius. Wertman was touched for two singles, both by Joe Merritt, fanned nine and walked one.

Jerry Sabine went all the way for Teays Valley, whiffing six, walking five and allowing seven hits.

A pair of 2-run homers by the Braves provided most of the scoring punch.

In the third inning after Mike Holbrook led off with a double and scored from second on a throwing error that put Mark Justus on base, Rick Blankenship uncorked a 4-bagger to left. That gave the Braves three runs in the inning.

The other two runs came in the top of the sixth when Wertie Teets walked and Greg Justus smashed a hit into the bleachers in right center.

Other hits by Logan Elm players were two singles by Gary Francis, and one single each by Mark Justus and Ken Kurtz.

Today Logan Elm hosts Canal Winchester in the final game of the season. The Braves are currently 16-2, having lost only to Westfall in Scioto Valley Conference game and to Pickerington in the sectional tournament finals.

Lolich And Tigers Defeat Baltimore, 6-1

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The coast is clear. All the roadblocks have been removed. Denny McLain is on his way to the minors. Vida Blue is still getting his arm out of hibernation. It's your turn to step front and center, Mickey Lolich. Detroit's quality lefthander, who always seems to be overshadowed by somebody else, knows an opportunity when he sees one. And he isn't passing up his chance at the American League's pitching spotlight.

Lolich won his sixth straight game Wednesday night and became the first seven-game winner in the majors with a 6-1 decision over Baltimore. He fired a four-hitter and struck out six, increasing his American League lead in that department to 53.

Elsewhere Wednesday, Cleveland edged New York 2-1, Milwaukee trimmed Boston 4-1, Minnesota took Chicago 8-1, Oakland blanked California 4-0 and Texas outlasted Kansas City 4-3 in 18 innings.

Catcher Tom Haller drove in four runs for the Tigers, three of them on an eighth inning homer. That was plenty for Lolich, who now has seven complete games.

"No matter what I do," said Lolich, "people will remember what Vida Blue did last year.

Can't you ever give me credit? What do I have to do?"

Well, he could play the organ like McLain, or hold out all spring like Blue.

Lolich was always Detroit's No. 2 pitcher behind McLain when Denny was with the Tigers. McLain won 31 games in 1968 to 17 for Lolich but it was the chubby lefty who was the World Series hero with three victories including the seventh game against Bob Gibson.

Now McLain's gone and Blue still hasn't thrown a ball in anger. Lolich is 7-1 and wondering who'll come along to shove him into the shadows this time.

George Scott hammered a two-run homer and Jim Lonborg earned his first victory, helping Milwaukee beat the Boston Red Sox.

Scott and Lonborg both came to the Brewers from Boston in the giant 10-man trade engineered by the two clubs during the 1971 World Series.

Cleveland nipped the Yankees when Tom McCraw opened the bottom of the ninth inning with a triple and then strolled home following three walks, the first two intentional.

Bobby Murcer homered for New York.

Danny Thompson ripped a bases-loaded triple and Harmon Killebrew tagged a two-run homer, moving Minnesota past Chicago. The defeat ended a six-game winning streak for the White Sox.

The homer was the 519th of Killebrew's career, leaving him two short of Ted Williams' total.

Ken Holtzman scattered eight hits and pitched Oakland past California. Holtzman also drove in two runs with a single. Joe Rudi homered for the A's.

It was the third straight loss for Rudy May, who has not had a run scored for him this season.

The Texas-Kansas City marathon ended in a bizarre manner with catcher's interference and then a two-base throwing error by reliever Ted Abernathy leading to the Rangers' winning run.

Joe Lovitto reached base on catcher Dennis Paepke's interference and then raced to third when Abernathy threw away Jim Panther's attempted sacrifice. Toby Harrah's grounder got the winning run home.

Nets May Get McGinnis In Trouble

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The New York Nets' strategy in tonight's fifth game of the American Basketball Association championship playoff might well be to get Indiana rookie George McGinnis in foul trouble.

The series comes back to Indianapolis knotted at two games apiece and McGinnis has been a key factor, one way or the other, in all four games.

His absence under the boards, and from the floor, in all but 11 minutes of the second half in Monday's fourth game hurt the Pacers' running game.

The Nets dominated the boards in the fourth quarter, coming from six points down after the third period to post a 110-105 victory.

In the Nets' other victory, a 117-115 triumph here in game two, McGinnis grabbed only 11 rebounds.

By contrast, he cleared 20 and 22 rebounds in Indiana's two successes.

New York hopes for better form from All-ABA guard Bill Melchioni to help offset the backcourt scoring of Pacer guards Freddie Lewis, Rick Mount and Billy Keller.

Melchioni has had only one good shooting night in the series and doesn't seem to have regained his timing after sitting out nearly a month with a broken wrist.

The 6-foot-2 Mahler, a graduate of the road racing ranks, is driving a two-year-old Eagle owned by Vanguard racing.

Mahler had the car up to 181.378 m.p.h. Wednesday and at that rate could be a solid bet for a start, though hardly strong enough to endanger the dozen drivers who made the lineup last weekend.

Krisiloff, a slender 145-pounder, started 27th in the 1971 race but was eliminated in a crash that also took out driving mate Mario Andretti. The accident was triggered when Krisiloff's engine blew.

Mahler already is assured of rookie company. Sam Posey, Swede Savage and John Martin got into the lineup Sunday.

Posey put his Norris Eagle in the middle of the second row with a speed of 184.379. Savage posted 181.726 for the third row and Martin's 179.614 gave him a fourth row spot.

All three could be shuffled around a bit when such hotshots as A.J. Foyt, Al Unser, Mark Donohue, Roger McCluskey, Peter Revson and Mike Mosley go to the line Saturday.

Mosley, driving the Leader Card Watson Offy, loomed as a solid candidate for one of the 21 remaining berths when he recorded a lap at 192.029 Wednesday.

Meantime, Merle Bettenhausen completed his rookie test with a lap at 173.947. He is a brother of Gary Bettenhausen and second son of late speedway great Tony Bettenhausen.

Runnerup Spot Eyed In Big 10

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Although Iowa already has wrapped up its first Big Ten baseball title since 1939, three clubs will be battling for the runnerup spot in this weekend's closing round of the conference schedule.

The Hawkeyes last weekend finished with a 13-3 league record, rounding out the campaign with an 11-game winning streak, to gain the Big Ten's berth in the NCAA District Four playoffs.

This weekend, Northwestern (9-5) is host in a pair of twin bills to Michigan State (7-3) on Friday and Michigan (7-3) on Saturday.

Also having bearing on the final No. 2 spot behind Iowa will be an invasion of Wisconsin (5-6) for doubleheaders by Michigan Friday and Michigan State Saturday.

Currently dethroned champion Michigan State and Michigan share second place, while Northwestern is deadlocked for fourth place with already finished Minnesota, also 9-5.

The weekend's remaining windup action finds Indiana (2-11) at Ohio State (4-10) for a Saturday pair.

Hey Baldie! Try Some Horse Manure
PETERBOROUGH, England (AP) — Harry Biggs says he thinks he has stumbled across a new cure for baldness—horse manure.
Biggs, a 69-year-old pensioner, went bald 15 years ago. A friend gave him a manure mix to fertilize his garden and in the process some of it rubbed off on Biggs' head about six months ago. Now his hair is growing back.

Pickaway MR Program Given $11,800 Grant

Governor John J. Gilligan and Dr. Kenneth D. Gaver, Director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, announced today that the Pickaway County Program for Mental Retardation will receive $11,800, allocated to Ohio for disbursement by the State of Ohio Planning and Advisory Council.

Throughout Ohio, 35 programs to assist persons who are developmentally disabled were awarded grants totaling $784,950.

2-Month-Old Tot Is Given Pacemaker

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A miniaturized heart pacemaker has been implanted in a 2-month-old baby here, believed to be the youngest recipient of the device.

The operation, doctors said Wednesday, has enabled the once-failing heart of Nicole Kruljac to beat strongly. Nicole, a twin, was born with a complete heart block, said Dr. Stanley Higashino, chief of cardiology at Children's Hospital Medical Center.

Nicole, of Sonoma, was near death April 30 due to an abnormally slow heartbeat. Doctors installed a temporary pacemaker in her heart and the permanent model was implanted in an operation May 4.

The pacemaker sends electric impulses to the heart muscle, causing it to beat at a proper rate.

Easter Seal Society Saves Foil Flaps

The Ohio Society for Crippled Children and Adults (the Easter Seal Society) has announced participation in the special Alcoa Wrap program to send handicapped children to camp this summer. The Society and its local Easter Seal units are collecting end flaps from all sizes of Alcoa Wrap Aluminum Foil. For each 3,000 points worth the end flaps collected, a child can enjoy summer camp.

Flap points can be designated for credit to the Easter Seal Society's summer camping program at Camp Pittenger near Tiffin, Ohio, or one of the several other Easter Seal Camping programs throughout the state. For convenience, individuals may send the collected flaps to the local Easter Seal Society or mail direct to the Ohio Society for Crippled Children and Adults, P. O. Box 6728, Columbus, Ohio 43209.

Each summer for more than 25 years, the Society has provided camping vacations for approximately 200 handicapped children. In 1965 the Society organized a camping program for handicapped adults of Ohio with the program organized for 65 individuals between the ages of 21 and 65.

sweep of first place in Maryland and Michigan primaries Tuesday, McGovern still managed to pick up another 44 delegates and push his total to 405.

Wallace, who reaped 113 delegates Tuesday, moved into second place with a 323 total. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey has 271½, and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie has 129.

It takes 1,509 to be nominated at the July 10 Miami Beach convention.

McGovern people are talking about having 1,200 to 1,300 delegates secured after the last primary in New York June 20. That would leave him within reach of a first-ballot nomination.

The big prize that could put it over for McGovern or keep Humphrey alive is California's June 6 primary where the winner takes all 271 delegates.

Humphrey is strong in California. So is McGovern. Wallace, who may have peaked Tuesday, has no place left to go where he will find the ingredients of Southern voters or volatile anti-busing sentiment which have featured in his victories so far.

Wallace's future in this campaign depends on how well he will recover from the bullet wounds he suffered in Laurel, Md., Monday and whether he can campaign again.

On the Republican side, President Nixon appears certain of the delegates needed for re-nomination well in advance of the GOP convention which opens Aug. 21 in Miami Beach. He has 507 already of the 674 needed for nomination.

PUCO Ups Tax Decal Enforcement

John T. Gordon, Director of Transportation for the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO), issued a reminder to the Ohio trucking industry that tax decals for the last half of Fiscal Year '72 and the first half of Fiscal Year '73 will go on sale June 1.

There will be a moratorium on tax decal enforcement from July 1-July 15 to allow motor carrier firms adequate time to display these new decals.

Rigid enforcement procedures will be in effect following the July 15 deadline in an attempt to halt increased violations of Ohio's tax laws.

In his reminder Gordon expressed concern over the unprecedented number of tax decal violations which have been detected during the past year.

The PUCO tax decal represents the tax paid by a motor carrier firm to the State of Ohio, for operating authority over Ohio's highways.

Since April of 1971, Gordon's field investigators have accounted for 1223 tax decal violations, representing $23,000 in revenue to the State.

"If this is a management oversight," Gordon said, "it is certainly a costly one."

Fines over-and-above the basic cost of the decal amounted to $39,000 this year alone.

Gordon's concern over increasing transportation violations is a result of investigative reports submitted by his field investigators for the month of April.

"In one month," said Gordon, "our investigators collected $16,683 in fines, made 335 arrests, and wrote 2437 inspection reports."

This represents a 266 per cent increase in fines over April of 1971.

Analysts . . .

They anticipate that Hanoi would accompany this military threat with a renewed offer at the Paris negotiating table of terms which, in the U.S. view, would amount to a communist takeover of the South.

If North Vietnam decides its spring offensive has gained little, it could pull its forces back into the bases outside South Vietnam to prepare for another drive later. Some units probably would remain dug in south of the demilitarized zone, especially if Hue is captured.

U.S. analysts say the North Vietnamese think time is on their side.

Nixon's strategy counts time as in Saigon's favor—for progress in Vietnamization while U.S. air-sea interdiction takes hold on Hanoi's supply lines from the outside.

2-Month-Old Tot Is Given Pacemaker

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A miniaturized heart pacemaker has been implanted in a 2-month-old baby here, believed to be the youngest recipient of the device.

The operation, doctors said Wednesday, has enabled the once-failing heart of Nicole Kruljac to beat strongly. Nicole, a twin, was born with a complete heart block, said Dr. Stanley Higashino, chief of cardiology at Children's Hospital Medical Center.

Nicole, of Sonoma, was near death April 30 due to an abnormally slow heartbeat. Doctors installed a temporary pacemaker in her heart and the permanent model was implanted in an operation May 4.

The pacemaker sends electric impulses to the heart muscle, causing it to beat at a proper rate.

Easter Seal Society Saves Foil Flaps

The Ohio Society for Crippled Children and Adults (the Easter Seal Society) has announced participation in the special Alcoa Wrap program to send handicapped children to camp this summer. The Society and its local Easter Seal units are collecting end flaps from all sizes of Alcoa Wrap Aluminum Foil. For each 3,000 points worth the end flaps collected, a child can enjoy summer camp.

Flap points can be designated for credit to the Easter Seal Society summer camping program at Camp Pittenger near Tiffin, Ohio, or one of the several other Easter Seal Camping programs throughout the state. For convenience, individuals may send the collected flaps to the local Easter Seal Society or mail direct to the Ohio Society for Crippled Children and Adults, P. O. Box 6728, Columbus, Ohio 43209.

Each summer for more than 25 years, the Society has provided camping vacations for approximately 200 handicapped children. In 1965 the Society organized a camping program for handicapped adults of Ohio with the program organized for 65 individuals between the ages of 21 and 65.
